This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

ORGANIZATION OF THE DEPARTMENT.

The direction and management of the Post Office Department are assigned by the constitution and laws to the Postmaster General. That its business may be the more conveniently arranged and prepared for his final action, it is distributed among several bureaus, as follows: The Appointment Office, in charge of the First Assistant Postmaster General; the Contract Office, in charge of the Second Assistant Postmaster General; the Finance Office, in charge of the Third Assistant Postmaster General; and the Inspection Office, in charge of the Chief Clerk.

APPOINTMENT OFFICE.—The First Assistant Postmaster General has nineteen clerks. To this office are assigned all questions which relate to the establishment and discontinuance of post offices, changes of sites and names, appointment and removal of postmasters, and route and local agents, as also, the giving of instructions to postmasters. Postmasters are furnished with marking and rating stamps and letter balances by this bureau, which is charged also with providing blanks and stationery for the use of the department, and with the superintendence of the several agencies established for supplying postmasters with blanks. To this bureau is likewise assigned the supervision of the ocean mail steamship lines, and of the foreign and international postal arrangements.

CONTRACT OFFICE.—The Second Assistant Postmaster General has twenty-six clerks. To this office is assigned the business of arranging the mail service of the United States, and placing the same under contract, embracing all correspondence and proceedings respecting the frequency of trips, mode of conveyance, and times of departures and arrivals on all the routes; the course of the mail between the different sections of the country, the points of mail distribution, and the regulations for the government of the domestic mail service of the United States. It prepares the advertisements for mail proposals, receives the bids, and takes charge of the annual and occasional mail lettings, and the adjustment and execution of the contracts. All applications for the establishment or alteration of mail arrangements, and the appointment of mail messengers, should be sent to this office. All claims should be submitted to it for transportation service not under contract, as the recognition of said service is first to be obtained through the Contract Office as a necessary authority for the proper credits at the Auditor's office. From this office all postmasters at the ends of routes receive the statement of mail arrangements prescribed for the respective routes. It reports weekly to the Auditor all contracts executed, and all orders affecting accounts for mail transportation; prepares the statistical exhibits of the mail service, and the reports of the mail lettings, giving a statement of each bid; also of the contracts made, the new service originated, the curtailments ordered, and the additional allowances granted within the year.

FINANCE OFFICE.—The Third Assistant Postmaster General has twenty-one clerks. To this office are assigned the supervision and management of the financial business of the department, not devolved by law upon the Auditor, embracing accounts with the draft offices and other depositaries of the department, the issuing of warrants and drafts in payment of balances reported by the Auditor to be due to mail contractors and other persons, the supervision of the accounts of offices under orders to deposite their quarterly balances at designated points, and the superintendence of the rendition by postmasters of their quarterly returns of postages. It has charge of the dead-letter office, of the issuing of postage stamps and stamped envelopes for the prepayment of postage, and of the accounts connected therewith.

To the Third Assistant Postmaster General all postmasters should direct their quarterly returns of postage; those at draft offices, their letters reporting quarterly the net proceeds of their offices, and those at depositing offices their certificates of deposite; to him should also be directed the weekly and monthly returns of the depositaries of the department, as well as all applications and receipts for postage stamps and stamped envelopes, and for dead letters.

INSPECTION OFFICE.—The Chief Clerk has seventeen clerks. To this office is assigned the duty of receiving and examining the registers of the arrivals and departures of the mails, certificates of the service of route agents, and reports of mail failures; of noting the delinquencies of contractors, and preparing cases thereon for the action of the Postmaster General; furnishing blanks for mail registers, and reports of mail failures; providing and sending out mail-bags and mail-locks and keys, and doing all other things which may be necessary to secure a faithful and exact performance of all mail contracts.

All cases of mail depredation, of violation of law by private expresses, or by the forging or illegal use of postage stamps, are under the supervision of this office, and should be reported to it.

All communications respecting lost money, letters, mail depredations, or other violations of law, or mail-locks and keys, should be directed "Chief Clerk, Post Office Department."

All registers of the arrivals and departures of the mails, certificates of the service of route agents, reports of mail failures, applications for blank registers, and reports of failures, and all complaints against contractors for irregular or imperfect service, should be directed "Inspection Office, Post Office Department."

THE PRINCIPAL REGULATIONS

OF THE

Post Office Department,

AS IN FORCE ON THE 1ST OF JULY, 1855.

COMPILED BY

D. D. T. LEECH,

OF THE POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

The following List embraces nearly all the Regulations of the Department. The omissions consist in leaving out a few lengthy instructions, possessing no special interest to citizens generally, or to the bulk of Postmasters.

REGULATIONS.

CHAPTER I.

APPOINTMENT OF POST MASTERS.

Sec. 1. At all post offices where the compensation of the postmaster exceeded one thousand dollars for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1835, or for any subsequent fiscal year, a deputy postmaster is to be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, and can be removed by the President only. At all other offices, the Postmaster General has the sole power of appointment and removal.

Sec. 2. Upon the appointment of a postmaster, he is furnished with a letter of appointment and a blank bond. Upon executing the bond, as required, taking the oath of office, enclosing them in a letter directed to the Appointment Office, and depositing such letter in the post office, and not before, he is authorized to take charge of the office.

Sec. 3. No person can be appointed postmaster who cannot legally execute an official bond.

Sec. 4. No person can hold the office of postmaster, who is not an actual resident of the city or town wherein the post office is situated, or within the delivery of the office.

Sec. 5. The duties of his office must be performed only by himself, personally, or by a sworn assistant or assistants, whom he may employ to aid him, when necessary; for the care and attention of every one of whom he will be responsible to the Department.

Sec. 6. Every assistant, before he is permitted to have any agency in the business of the office, must take and subscribe the following oaths, which must be certified by a magistrate, and forwarded to the Appointment Office.

"I,————————————, do swear, (or affirm, as the case may be) that I will faithfully perform all the duties required of me, and abstain from every thing forbidden by the laws in relation to the establishment of the Post Office and post roads within the United States."

"I do solemnly swear, (or affirm, as the case may be,) that I will support the Constitution of the United States."

Sec. 7. These oaths should be certified by the magistrate who administers them.

Sec. 8. It is forbidden that any person be employed as assistant or clerk in any Post office, or as mail carrier, who shall be at the time when he subscribes the required oath of office, less than sixteen years old.

Sec. 9. On taking charge of a post office, the postmaster will make in duplicate four several inventories of the public property belonging to it as follows:

1. Of all laws, regulations, lists of post offices, circulars, orders, &c.

2. Of all locks, keys, and mail bags.

3. Of all letters, packets, newspapers, pamphlets, and other mail matter, stating the amount of unpaid postages thereon; and

4. Of all desks, cases, and other furniture, or fixtures, books, maps, blanks, and stationery allowed or furnished by the Department.

Sec. 10 He will deliver one of each of these duplicates, with his receipt thereon, to his predecessor. The other he will transmit—No. 1 to the Appointment Office—No. 2 to the Inspection Office, and Nos. 3 and 4 to the Auditor's Office.

Sec. 11. Precaution should be taken by the postmaster in all cases to appoint an assistant, to prevent the office from being left without a duly qualified person to perform its duties, in case of the necessary absence, the sickness, resignation, or death of the postmaster.

Sec. 12. The postmaster will cause his clerks, and also the letter carriers of his office, to take the necessary oaths of office, and will send them for file to the Appointment Office, before they enter upon their duties. The agents of the Department will promptly report all instances of non-compliance with this regulation to the Appointment or Inspection Office as the case may be.

Sec. 13. No Postmaster, Assistant Postmaster, or clerk employed in a Post Office, can hold a mail contract or be concerned in carrying the mail.

Sec 14. The postmaster will keep his office open for the despatch of business, every day, except Sunday, during the usual hours of business in the place; and attend at such other hours as may be necessary to receive and despatch mails. When the mail arrives on Sunday, he will keep his office open for one hour or more, if the public convenience require it, after the arrival and assortment thereof, unless it be during the time of public worship; in which case he will keep the office open for one hour or more, if necessary, after the religious services have ceased.

Sec. 15. Postmasters, assistants and clerks, regularly employed in Post Offices, are exempt from militia duty, and from serving on juries, but not from working on roads, nor from obeying a summons to appear in court as witnesses, or to testify before a Grand Jury.

Sec. 16. A postmaster is responsible for the discharge, by himself or his sworn assistant, of all the duties of the office, until his successor shall have been appointed and qualified—even although the term for which he may have been appointed has expired.

Sec. 17. Whether the appointment be from the President or the Postmaster General, in the event of death, the responsibility of the sureties will continue, for the fidelity of the person left in charge of the office, until a successor is appointed and qualified.

Sec. 18. And it may be lawful for the sureties, or any one of them, to perform the duties of postmaster, by themselves or agent, until their successor be appointed. The person performing such duties should, before entering on the discharge of them, take the usual oath. Justices of the peace, unless excluded by their own State laws, may serve also as postmasters.

Sec. 19. All instructions, circulars, and orders received by a postmaster, from any branch, or officer of the Department, are to be filed in the office, and turned over to his successor. In like manner he will turn over to his successor, or in the event of the discontinuance of the office, deliver to the nearest postmaster, as public property, all desks, cases, and other furniture and fixtures, and all books, maps, blanks, stationery, and other articles, which have either been furnished to him as postmaster, or have been charged and allowed at any time, whether as contingent expenses in the quarterly account, or as items in the commission, emolument, or other account, and which may remain on hand when the vacancy or discontinuance occurs.

Sec. 20. Every postmaster, in addressing the Department, should be careful to write the name of his office, County and State, at the head of his letter, and to avoid writing upon more than one subject in the same letter. He should then post-mark the letter with the name of his office and State, as well as date of mailing, and address it to the proper bureau.

CHAPTER II.

MAKING UP THE MAILS.

Sec. 21. The mails were established for the transmission of intelligence; the articles, therefore, proper to be sent in them are letters, newspapers, pamphlets, and other printed matter, including parcels and bound books not weighing over four pounds.

Sec. 22. Packets of every description, weighing more than four pounds are to be excluded, except public documents, printed by order of either House of Congress, or such publications or books as have been or may be published, procured or purchased, by order of either House of Congress, or joint resolution of the two Houses, and legally franked.

Sec. 23. Letters received to be sent by mail, should be carefully marked with the name of the post office at which they are received, and the abbreviated name of the State or Territory, the day of the month on which they are forwarded in the mail, and the rate of postage chargeable on them; or if they be free, with the word Free. The name, date, and Free, may be either written or stamped.

Sec. 24. Letters, however, must bear post-mark, and post bills must bear the date on which the mail containing them is actually sent off, although they may have been made up on a previous day. The post-bills, as to year, month, and day of the month, should be fully and plainly written.

Sec. 25 Postmasters will carefully assort the letters deposited in their offices for mailing, and will mail them as follows, to wit:

Every postmaster will mail and postbill direct to the place addressed, 1st, all letters for his own State or Territory; 2d, all letters, for post offices in other States and Territories, which should not pass through a distributing office on their proper route to the office of delivery; and 3d, all letters on which the instruction "mail direct" shall be written.

Letters not required by the foregoing provisions to be mailed direct shall be postbilled and mailed to the distributing office through which they should first pass on the proper route to the place of their destination—unless the mailing office be a distributing office.

Sec. 26. Each package containing letters mailed and postbilled direct should be plainly directed on the outside with the name of the office to which it is to be sent, and of the county and State in which such office is situated.

Sec. 27. Packages containing letters for distribution should be plainly directed in the same manner, with the addition of the letters "D. P. O." (for distributing post office) after the name of the office.

Sec. 28. The number of letters and amount of postage are to be entered under the proper heads in the post bill, to be sent with them. The names of the offices from and to which they are sent should appear in their proper places at the top of the bill, which must be plainly dated and signed by the postmaster.

CHAPTER III.

RECEIVING AND DISPATCHING MAILS.

Sec. 29. A postmaster will always be in readiness, in person, or by his assistants, to receive the mail when it arrives, and dispatch it with all possible expedition.

Sec. 30. If no special order upon the subject has been made in regard to his office, he is allowed seven minutes only to change the mail.

Sec. 31. Way offices on railroads will be supplied by the exchanging of pouches as the cars pass, without waiting for time to change the mail, and postmasters at such offices should have the mails ready when the cars arrive.

Sec. 32. If the mail be carried in a stage, coach, or sulky, it will be the duty of the driver to deliver it as near the door of the post office as he can come with his vehicle, but not to leave his horses; and he should not be permitted to throw the mail on the ground.

Sec. 33. The postmaster will never detain a mail beyond the time fixed for its departure, except in pursuance of special instructions received from the Department.

Sec. 34. When the mail is to remain but a few minutes at his office, his mail should be made up and ready to be put into the mail-bag before the time when it usually arrives.

Sec. 35. He will stop all packets which he finds going in the wrong, and put them in the right direction.

Sec. 36. In case of a failure of the mail, he will forward all the packets by the next trip.

Sec. 37. It is inadmissible to send letters in a canvass bag without a lock, unless they are enclosed in a locked bag.

Sec. 38. Never deliver the mail bag to the carrier without being certain that it is locked.

CHAPTER IV.

OPENING OF THE MAIL.

Sec. 39. Upon the arrival of the mail at any post office, the packets addressed to that office, and none other, should be opened, and the postmaster will find with each one a bill of the contents, called a post bill. Compare this bill with the contents, and if they do not agree, note upon the bill the amount of the difference, and whether undercharged or overcharged.

Sec. 40. Every postmaster will then look over the letters thus received, to see if the postages be properly charged or marked on them, and correct the rates on the letters, where he finds mistakes, noting the amount corrected on the bill, as under or overcharged.

Sec. 41. If a postmaster finds any letters that are not for his delivery, and are mis-sent to his office, he will put them in the proper place to be forwarded, noting on the bill the amount forwarded, and writing on the letters the words "mis-sent and forwarded," with the date. They should be forwarded by the first mail.

Sec. 42. It is proper to forward a letter when duly requested. When forwarded, no additional postage should be charged, if the letter, contrary to its address, has been mis-sent. If it has been sent according to its address, and then forwarded, it must be charged with additional postage, at the pre-paid rate, according to distance, established by the act of March 3, 1855, which additional postage may be paid either at the forwarding office or at the office of delivery.

Sec. 43. A postmaster will not suffer any package to be opened which is not addressed to his office, nor any addressed to his office to be opened by persons not duly authorized.

Sec. 44. Upon making up the mail, it is the duty of every postmaster, when he knows that any letter has been illegally franked, or that the frank on any letter is forged, to treat the same as unpaid; and the postmaster at the office of delivery of any letter which he knows has been illegally franked, or on which the frank has been forged, is directed to charge such letter with the legal postage.

Sec. 45. Having carefully examined the post bills, and found them right, or discovered and corrected their errors, as well in casting up, as in the particulars above mentioned, every postmaster will enter their contents in the Account of mails received, stating the name of the office (and State, if it is out of his own,) from which each bill came.

Sec. 46. Every postmaster will enter the amount of unpaid letters, as it is charged in the bill, whether the charge be correct or erroneous. If erroneous, it falls either under the denomination of undercharged or overcharged, and by an entry of the sum, under or overcharged, in the proper column, that error is balanced.

CHAPTER V.

TIME ALLOWED FOR CLOSING MAILS.

Sec. 47. The great mails are to be closed at all distributing offices not more than one hour before the time fixed for their departure; and all other mails at those offices, and all mails at all other offices, not more than half an hour before that time, unless the departure is between 9 o'clock, P. M., and 5, A. M., in which case the mail is to be closed at 9, P. M.

CHAPTER VI.

MAILS FOR DISTRIBUTION, IN WHAT MANNER TO BE MADE UP.

Sec. 48. Distributing offices are established to insure certainty and regularity in the transmission of letters and packets between remote points; and to this end, besides the usual business of a post office, certain peculiar duties are performed therein.

Sec. 49. All post bills sent from distributing offices are to be filled according to the directions in chapter 2, with the contents of each parcel, and addressed either to the particular office to which the letters are destined, or to the proper distributing office as such. These post bills are then to be dated, and entered in the Account of mails sent from the distributing office.

Sec. 50. A postmaster at a distributing office will not open and distribute a mail which is addressed to another office.

Sec. 51. If letters be sent by any postmaster to a distributing office, when they should have been mailed direct to the offices to which they are addressed, the postmaster at such distributing office will request the postmaster so sending to correct his practice; and if continued, report him, for such violation of instructions, to the appointment office.

CHAPTER VII.

DELIVERY AND RETURN OF LETTERS.

Sec. 52. The persons entitled to letters received by mail, are those whose names are in the address, or to whose care they may be directed.

Sec. 53. The delivery should be either to the person addressed, or according to his order. The order is, in some cases implied, as where a person is in the habit of receiving his letters through his son, clerk, or servant, and of recognising the delivery to him.

Sec. 54. If a letter appear to be of value, it will be safest to require a written order for its delivery, to the person calling, if he be not the person addressed.

Sec. 55. If there be two or more persons of the same name, and a letter intended for one is deliverd to another, the postmaster will reseal the letter in the presence of the person who opened it, and request him to write upon it the words, "Opened by me through mistake," and sign his name; he will then replace the letter in the office.

Sec. 56. To prevent fraud, the postmaster will be careful not to return any letter put into his office for transmission by mail, unless to the writer thereof, or some one presenting his written order.

Sec. 57. And to enable him to know that the person applying for the return of a letter is the writer, he may require him, or his messenger, to exhibit to him the same superscription and seal that are upon the letter. And if the postmaster is satisfied that the handwriting and seal are the same, he will return the letter; taking a receipt, and preserving it with the paper containing the superscription, and the order, if one were sent.

Sec. 58. A letter bearing the frank of an individual may be returned to him, or his order.

Sec. 59. When a letter is delivered, and the postage paid thereon, the postage should not be returned after the letter has been opened, except in cases where the postmaster is satisfied it has been opened by the wrong person through mistake, in which event the letter should be resealed, and a memorandum of the mistake made thereon in writing.

CHAPTER VIII.

LETTER POSTAGES.

Sec. 60. The Act of March 3, 1855, requires postage on all letters, except those to foreign countries and to officers of the government having the franking privilege, and on official business, to be prepaid, from and after the first day of April, 1855, by stamps, stamped envelopes, or money; and it further provides that, from and after the first day of January, 1856, all postage, as aforesaid, shall be paid by stamps or stamped envelopes, exclusively; pre-payment in money being prohibited from and after the last mentioned date.

Sec. 61. Pre-payment on drop letters is optional.

SEC. 62. Rates of Letter Postages between offices in the United States, and to and from Canada and the other British North American Provinces.

Sec. 63. The mode of computing the rates upon inland letters—i. e. letters from one office within the United States or Territories to another, and also upon letters between the United States and the British North American provinces—is to be as follows, to wit: Single rate, if not exceeding half an ounce; double rate, if exceeding half an ounce, but not exceeding an ounce; treble rate, if exceeding an ounce, but not exceeding an ounce and a half; and so on, charging an additional rate for every additional half ounce or fraction of half an ounce.

The mode of computing rates upon letters to Great Britain, and to all other foreign countries, the British North American provinces excepted, is stated in Sections 105, 106 and 107.

Sec. 64. All drop-letters, or letters placed in any post office, not for transmission, but for delivery only, shall be charged with postage at the rate of one cent each.

Sec. 65. The 10 or 15 cents (according to the distance,) pays for the single letter from any post office in the United States, to any post office in either of the British North American provinces; and vice versa; pre-payment is optional in either country, but a pre-payment of any thing less than the full rate is not to be regarded.

The six pence (6d.) and shilling marks of pre-payment in the British North American provinces will be recognized.

Sec. 66. The distance according to which postage is chargeable, is that on the post road from one office to another, upon which the mail is conveyed.

Sec. 67. Letters should in all cases be sent by the most expeditious routes, unless otherwise ordered by the person sending the same.

Sec. 68. It is a penal offence to deposite in any post office to be conveyed in the mail, within the United States, any envelope or packet containing letters addressed to different persons.

Sec. 69. Letters and packets that are carried on any of the waters of the United States, in vessels, under an arrangement with the Department, are subject to the same postage as if carried in the mail overland. See also Section 114 on this point.

Sec. 70. Letter postage is to be charged on all handbills, circulars, or other printed matter which shall contain any manuscript writing whatever.

Sec. 71. Postmasters will charge letter postage on all packets that are closely enveloped and sealed, so that their contents cannot be known.

Sec. 72. Daguerreotypes when sent in the mail should be rated and charged with letter postage by weight.

Sec. 73. The act of March 3, 1855, making no provision for unpaid letters to places within the United States—on the same or day following any such unpaid letter or letters being put into a post office, the Postmaster thereof will post up conspicuously in his office a list of the same, stating that they are held up for postage. Any unpaid letters, dropped into the mail cars to be forwarded, must be deposited by the route agents in the post office at or nearest the point where they are received, and the postmaster will add them to his list, stating that they were put into the cars unpaid. If not attended to, all such letters must be returned monthly to the dead letter office.

Sec. 74. Letters mailed in the cars can be prepaid only by using postage stamps or stamped envelopes, and when not thus prepaid, it is the duty of Postmasters to treat all such letters as unpaid, although marked "paid"—no route agent being permitted to receive pre-payment in money.

Sec. 75. Letters part paid should be despatched, charged with the additional postage due at the prepaid rate, according to distance, established by said act, except where the omission to pay the correct amount is known to have been intentional, when they should be treated the same as letters wholly unpaid.

Sec. 76. Bills of lading and unsealed letters relating exclusively to the whole or any part of the cargo of a vessel or steamboat, may be sent on such vessel or steamboat outside of the mail, unless they are placed in an envelope with other matter. In the latter case, the whole package is subject to letter postage.

Sec. 77. The postmaster will pay the mail carrier one cent, if demanded, for each way letter he delivers to him, and add that cent to the ordinary postage on the letter.

CHAPTER IX.

Sec. 85. By a joint Resolution of Congress, the Congressional Globe and Appendix may also be sent free through the mails so long as the same may be published by order of Congress.

Sec. 86. Papers and Documents relating to the Census, marked "Official Business, Census," have a like privilege when sent by the Census Marshals or their Assistants.

Sec. 87. If the publisher of any newspaper or periodical, after being three months previously notified that his publication is not taken out of the office to which it is sent for delivery, continue to forward such publication in the mail, the postmaster to whose office such publication is sent will dispose of the same for the postage, unless the publisher shall pay it; and whenever any printed matter of any description, received during one quarter of the fiscal year, shall have remained in the office without being called for during the whole of any succeeding quarter, the postmaster at such office will give such notice to the publisher; and if he fail to pay the postage thereon within a reasonable time, will sell the same and credit the proceeds of such sale in his quarterly accounts in the usual manner. A similar course is to be pursued in reference to pamphlets and magazines published periodically.

Sec. 88. Quarterly payments in advance may be made either at the mailing office or the office of delivery. When made at such mailing office, at the commencement of a year or of a quarter, (as he may elect), the publisher must prepare and hand to the postmaster ready for signature, a receipt fo each post office to which the papers are to be sent for delivery—stating the number of papers to be sent to such post office, and the amount of postage to be paid thereon; also, giving the names of each of the subscribers. Upon the payment of the postage the receipts must be signed by the postmaster at the mailing office. The publisher will then direct such receipts to the postmasters at the offices of delivery, and they will be received there as evidence that the postage has been duly paid. To entitle them to pass free through the mails, such receipts must be left unsealed, endorsed "Post Office Business," and directed to the postmaster at the office of delivery. The postmasters to whom such receipts have been sent, will be thereby authorized to deliver the papers mentioned in such receipts to the subscribers therein named without further charge for postage.

Sec. 89. When periodicals are printed not oftener than once a quarter, and are sent from the office of publication to actual subscribers, the amount of postage being marked thereon as prepaid, at the mailing office, and the name of that office with the date of mailing being written or stamped thereon, will be sufficient evidence to warrant their delivery without further charge.—Such periodicals may be prepaid by stamps.

Sec. 90. Publishers of newspapers may, without subjecting them to extra postage, fold within their regular issues a supplement, provided the weight of the whole does not exceed one and a half ounces within the State where printed, or three ounces when sent out of the State. But in all such cases, the added matter must be a genuine supplement, or appendage to the newspaper in question, and of the same essential character, conveying intelligence of passing events of general interest.

Sec. 91. Publishers of newspapers cannot send specimen numbers of their papers to postmasters and others, without prepaying postage thereon.

Sec. 92. It is a violation of law to enclose or conceal a letter or other thing, (except bills and receipts for subscription) or to make any memorandum in writing, or to print any word of communication, after its publication, upon any newspaper, pamphlet, magazine or other printed matter. In all such cases letter postage should be demanded, and, if the person addressed refuse to pay such letter postage, the package should be returned to the Postmaster from whose office it came, to prosecute the sender for the penalty of $5, prescribed by the 30th section of the act of 1825: and all transient printed matter should be distinctly postmarked at the mailing office.

Sec. 93. Any memorandum in writing, or by marks or signs, upon the cover or wrapper of a newspaper, pamphlet, magazine, or other printed matter, other than the name and address of the person to whom it is to be sent, subjects the package to letter postage; but, in such cases, should the party addressed fail to pay letter postage, further proceedings should be waived and the package placed with the other refused matter in the office, there being no concealment nor attempt at fraud.

Sec. 94. Circulars, advertisements and business cards, not weighing over three ounces, sent any distance in the United States, are chargeable with one cent postage each when prepaid, and two cents each when not pre-paid. The same rates apply when sent in packages, unless the packages be sealed, so as to prevent the contents from being ascertained. If sealed, they are chargeable with letter postage by weight.

Sec. 95. Bona fide subscribers to weekly newspapers can receive the same free of postage, if they reside in the county in which the paper is printed and published, even if the office to which the paper is sent is without the county, provided it is the office at which they regularly receive their mail matter.

Sec. 96. Postage cannot be prepaid on regular newspapers or periodicals for a less term than one quarter; and in all cases postage must be paid on such matter at the commencement of a quarter.

Sec. 97. Exchange newspapers and periodicals, cannot be remailed without being chargeable with postage.

Sec. 98. A pamphlet is a printed but unbound publication, relating, solely, to some subject of local, ephemeral or temporary interest or importance only. Hence, with the exception of those not containing more than sixteen octavo pages each, for which, under certain conditions, the Act of August 30, 1852, has made special provision, no publication, although folded and unbound, can be permitted to pass in the mail as a "pamphlet," instead of a "book," unless its scope and subjects are such as to bring it fairly within the distinctive definition above given.

Sec 99. A newspaper is defined to be any printed publication issued in numbers, and published at short stated intervals of not more than a month, conveying intelligence of passing events. It generally consists of a sheet, but may be composed of two sheets of paper.

Sec. 100. Publications borrowing the name, having the form and some of the characteristics of a newspaper, printed for gratuitous circulation, and depending on their advertisements for support, cannot be sent by mail gratuitously to persons not actual and bona fide subscribers upon the footing of newspapers "sent from the office of publication to actual and bona fide subscribers."

Newspapers received by the Bremen Line are in like manner prepaid in Germany.

On Pamphlets, Magazines, and other printed matter, 1 cent an ounce, or fraction of an ounce, must be prepaid at the mailing office when sent from, and collected at the office of delivery, when received in, the United States. This is the U. S. postage only.

Letters of the weight of ¼ oz. and under, by the Havre line, are subject in France, to an additional postage of 30 centimes, (6 cents,) if destined to Havre; and 60 centimes (12 cents,) if destined to any other part of France or Algeria. These rates are respectively doubled on letters over ¼ oz., and not over ½ oz., an additional rate being charged for each additional ¼ oz., or fraction thereof.

In respect to British Mails, where the official postage entries on the letters received are in red ink, the letter is be considered as paid, and is to be delivered accordingly; where in black ink, as unpaid, and the postage is to be collected. Postage in such cases is either wholly paid or wholly unpaid. The credit and debit figures on such letters show, on the paid letters, the amount to be credited to the United States; on the unpaid letters, the amount charged to the United States by England; and these figures, "3 cents," "19 cents," "5 cents," "21 cents," &c., are solely for the convenience of the exchange offices in keeping the account with the British Post Office.

Newspapers 2 cents each, pre-payment required. Pamphlets and periodicals 2 cents each, if not weighing over two ounces, and 4 cents an ounce or fraction of an ounce, if they exceed two ounces, to be collected in all cases in the United States. All such printed matter is subject to like additional charges in Great Britain, each country collecting its own postage on printed matter, whether the same is sent or received. No pamphlet can be sent weighing over 8 ounces, and no periodical over 16 ounces, without being subject to letter postage. Neither pamphlets nor periodicals are entitled to conveyance through England.

Bogota New Grenada Buenaventura do.	28 cents on letters sent; being the United States and foreign postage. Pre-payment required. 20 cents on letters received; being the United States postage only.

Newspapers sent, 8 cents, and newspapers received, 4 cents, to be collected in the United States.

Australia, by private ship from New York, 5 cents, prepayment required.

China New South Wales Sandwich Islands By mail to San Francisco—thence by private ship.	10 cents, being the United States postage to San Francisco. Prepayment required.

Newspapers and periodicals must be pre-paid the regular domestic rates to San Francisco. The rate payable on letters at the point of destination in the Sandwich Islands is 5 cents, and on newspapers 2 cents each. In China and New South Wales the ship postage, it is understood, is comparatively trifling.

Sec. 102. VALUABLE LETTERS, addressed to Germany, or any part of the German Austrian Postal Union, by the Bremen line via New York, or by the Prussian closed mail via New York and Boston, will be registered on the application of the person posting the same, in the same manner and on the same terms as those deliverable in the United States, provided that the full postage chargeable thereon to destination, together with a registration fee of five cents on each letter, is prepaid at the mailing office.

Sec. 103. ON PAMPHLETS AND MAGAZINES, to or from the west coast of South America, the United States postage is four cents, and to or from all other foreign countries (except Great Britain and the British North American Provinces as above,) one cent an ounce or fraction of an ounce, to be collected in all cases in the United States.

Sec. 104. Newspapers and Periodicals to foreign countries (particularly to the continent of Europe) must be sent in narrow bands, open at the sides or end; otherwise they are chargeable with letter postage.

Sec. 105. All letters to and from foreign countries (the British North American Provinces excepted) are to be charged with single rate of postage, if not exceeding the weight of half an ounce; double rate, if exceeding half an ounce, but not exceeding an ounce; quadruple rate, if exceeding an ounce but not exceeding two ounces, and so on, charging two rates for every ounce or fractional part of an ounce over the first ounce. As this rule differs from that followed in respect to domestic letters, great care is requisite to prevent mistakes. Postmasters should be careful, also, where the postage is prepaid to collect the proper amount. They should be particular to notice the route indicated on the envelopes of letters, and to collect postage accordingly. Letters mailed at some offices, marked "via England," or "via Prussian Closed Mail," for a German State, are frequently taken upon the prepayment of Bremen rates, and those marked "via Bremen," at Prussian closed mail rates, &c.

Sec. 106. If letters for foreign countries, marked "Paid," are dropped into the Post Office without being paid, the Postmaster will erase the word "Paid," and write on the back of the letter, the words "Not Paid," with his name and title of Postmaster.

Sec. 107. In the case of letters to go through France, the French postage is rated by the quarter ounce for the single letter. This is ten cents, except with reference to letters for Egypt, Syria, and Tunis, by French packet, when the single French rate is twenty cents. Therefore, the quarter ounce French rate only being embraced in the above rates for letters marked "via France," or "via Marseilles," the French rate on all such letters must be doubled for each quarter of an ounce.

CHAPTER XI.

SHIP AND STEAMBOAT LETTERS.

Sec. 108. The terms ship letters and packets, embrace the letters and packets brought into the United States, from foreign countries, or carried from one port in the United States to another, in any private ship or vessel, before such letters have been mailed.

Sec. 109. The masters of steamboats under contract with the Department, will deliver into the post offices, (or to the local agent of the Department, if there be any,) at the places at which they arrive, all letters received by them, or by any person employed on their boats, at any point along the route.

Sec. 110. Masters or managers of all other steamboats, are required by law, under a penalty of thirty dollars, to deliver all letters brought by them, or within their care or power, addressed to, or destined for, the places at which they arrive, to the postmasters at such places: except letters relating to some part of the cargo and left unsealed. All letters not addressed to persons to whom the cargo, or any part of it, is consigned, are therefore to be delivered into the post office, to be charged with postage.

Sec. 111. Every master of a vessel from a foreign port is bound, immediately on his arrival at a port, and before he can report, make entry, or break bulk, under a penalty not to exceed $100, to deliver into the post office all letters brought in his vessel, directed to any person in the United States, or the Territories thereof, which are under his care or within his power, except such letters as relate to the cargo or some part thereof.

Sec. 112. All ship letters and packets are to be charged with a postage of six cents each, when delivered from the office at which they are first received; when forwarded in the mail to other offices, with two cents, in addition to the ordinary rates of postage. They should be all marked "Ship," at the time of receiving them. This applies to all letters and packets brought by vessels from foreign countries as well as those conveyed from one port to another in the United States over routes not declared post roads.

Sec. 113. Masters of foreign packets are not to be paid anything for letters delivered into the office; such letters are, notwithstanding, to be charged with postage, when delivered from the office, or forwarded by mail.

Sec. 114. Upon letters and packets received from the masters, clerks, or other employees of steamboats, on waters deemed post roads, the persons addressed will be charged, when delivered to them, the same postage as if the letters and packets had been conveyed in the mail overland, although not conveyed under an arrangement with the Department. See, also, Section 69.

Sec. 115. All letters placed on a mail steamboat, on which the mails are in charge of a route-agent, should go into the hands of such agent; and on these letters the master of the vessel is not entitled to receive any compensation. None but prepaid letters should be received on such steamboat, and these should be duly mailed. But should any chance to be unpaid, they should be deposited by the route-agent in the post office at or nearest the point at which they are received, and the postmaster should post up a list of them, with the unpaid letters dropped into his office, adding that they were put on board the steamboat unpaid. If not attended to, such letters are to be sent monthly to the Dead Letter Office

Sec. 116. In like manner, when practicable, all letters should be prepaid which are received by steamboats or other vessels not in the mail service, or carrying the mail with no route agent on board. When pre-paid, the master of the vessel, if under contract to carry the mail, may receive one cent "way," and if not under contract with the department, two cents each from the postmaster in whose office he deposits them; and they should be delivered to their address without any charge beyond the amount pre-paid. But if unpaid, they should be treated as ship letters, and are chargeable as such with a postage of six cents, if delivered at the office at which the vessel shall arrive, and with two cents in addition to the ordinary rate of postage if destined to be conveyed by post to another place. In the latter case the master of the vessel is entitled to receive two cents a letter.

Sec. 117. Persons desirous to send their letters by steamboats can most readily accomplish their object by enclosing such letters in the stamped envelopes issued by the department, inasmuch as letters so enclosed may be conveyed out of the mail without a violation of law, and need not be delivered to the postmaster on the arrival of the vessel.

Sec. 118. Postmasters should take receipts of the masters of boats, stating the number of such letters and the places from which they were brought.

Sec. 119. The account of steamboat letters received, stating the sums paid for them and the postage chargeable thereon, is to be kept in the account of Ship and Steamboat Letters received.

CHAPTER XII.

ADVERTISING LETTERS.

Sec. 120. When the gross receipts of the Post Office for the then next preceding quarter shall not have exceeded $500, the postmaster shall advertise such uncalled-for letters once in six weeks only: when such gross receipts shall have exceeded $500, and have not exceeded $1,000, the postmaster shall advertise once a month only: when such gross receipts shall have exceeded $1,000, and shall not have exceeded $7,500, the postmaster shall advertise twice a month: and when such gross receipts shall have exceeded $7,500, the postmaster shall advertise once a week. The following additional instructions on the subject will be observed:

1. Such advertisements are to be inserted in one newspaper only, which must be printed in the city, town, or village in which the post office is situated, and must have the largest circulation within the range of delivery of said office of any paper issued weekly or oftener, printed in such city, town, or village. Should the publisher of such paper refuse to give such list of letters one insertion, at one cent for each letter, the postmaster will designate for this service some other paper published in the same place. He is also required to post in a conspicuous place in his office a copy of such list on the day or the day after the publication thereof.

2. If there is no newspaper printed in the city, town, or village where the post office is kept, or if the publishers of all the papers printed shall refuse to advertise the letters for the sum above mentioned, then manuscript lists of them are to be made out and posted at such public places in the town and neighborhood as shall appear best adapted for the information of the parties concerned.

3. Refused letters are not to be advertised, nor those which the postmaster expects will be immediately taken from the office.

4. Drop and box letters, circulars, free packets containing printed documents, speeches or other printed matter, are not to be advertised.

5. When authority for the publication of lists of foreign letters in a newspaper printed in a foreign language is deemed advisable, the postmaster must make a special application for the necessary order to publish in such paper.

6. All orders for publication of these lists of uncalled-for letters in more than one newspaper are vacated and annulled. The present law authorizes a single publication in one paper only.

7. When daily, semi-weekly, tri-weekly, or weekly papers are issued from the same office, the proprietor must not be allowed to aggregate the circulation of such papers, but the single circulation of each issue of the particular paper for which he claims the publication. Whether the paper is issued daily, tri-weekly, semi-weekly, or weekly, must be shown, and the advertisement inserted in the particular paper which has tha largest circulation.

CHAPTER XIII.

DEAD LETTERS.

Sec. 121. Dead letters are such as have been advertised and have remained on hand three months or longer.

Sec. 122. But letters refused, or which cannot be delivered, are also to be considered dead letters and forwarded to the Department at the end of each month, without being advertised. Also, those held up for the payment of the postage, and not attended to, and those attempted to be sent with stamps previously used.

Sec. 123. All letters from foreign countries, including those from the British North American Provinces, should be returned at the expiration of one month after having been duly advertised.

Sec. 124. Letters for foreign countries which cannot be forwarded without pre-payment of postage; letters not addressed, or so badly directed that their destination cannot be ascertained, and letters addressed to places where there are no Post Offices, must be returned to the Department monthly with the "refused" and "foreign dead letters."

Sec. 125. At the end of each quarter, all dead letters then on hand, including such as are mentioned in the four preceding sections, and were not returned in the first two months of the quarter, must be forwarded to the Department in the regularly quarterly return, with a dead letter bill, showing the whole number then sent, as well as those sent in the two previous months.

Sec. 126. When refused letters, or letters which cannot be delivered, or letters from foreign countries or any such as are mentioned in section 131, are returned to the Department monthly, the Postmaster should not omit to note on the dead letter bill for the last month of the quarter, the amount of the bills returned for each of the two preceding months, so as to give a complete dead letter bill for the whole quarter, corresponding in amount with the credit claimed for dead letters in his quarterly account current All dead letter bills are to be made in duplicate, and one of each retained by the Postmaster.

Sec. 127. The dead letter bill should be so made up as to show the number of unpaid letters of each rate,—the number of paid letters of each rate,—the number of drop letters,—the number of unpaid, foreign letters and their rates,—the number of paid foreign letters and their rates; and each description of dead letters here mentioned should be carefully put in separate parcels, and the whole tied in one bundle.

Sec. 128. If the dead letters at any office be so numerous as to make it necessary to put them in several bundles, the bundles should be numbered consecutively, beginning with number 1, and the dead letter bills should always be put in the last number which should be marked "Bill."

Sec. 129. No allowance will be made for dead letters returned, unless they are accompanied by a dead letter bill.

Sec. 130. When a letter is refused, the word "refused" should be at once plainly written upon it, and the letter put with those to be returned at the end of the month.

Sec. 131. If previous to its return, the seal of a dead letter be broken by accident, or by having been delivered to the wrong person, the fact and circumstances must be noted upon it.

Sec. 132. Every dead letter must bear on the sealed side the stamp or post mark of the Post office by which it is returned, and the date of its return to the Department.

Sec. 133. When any letter from this Department, or from any other Department or public office at the seat of Government, is not called for within one month from the time of its receipt, or when the person addressed is known to be dead, or to have moved away, such letter must be returned direct to the Department or public office in which it originated, and should never be sent to the Post Office Department as a dead letter.

Sec. 134. All unpaid newspapers, pamphlets, and other printed matter mailed in any foreign country, and received at any Post office in the United States, which may be refused, or cannot be delivered as addressed, must be returned to the Department as dead matter—in the same manner, and under the same general regulations as apply to the return of dead letters, and should be addressed to the Third Assistant Postmaster General.

CHAPTER XIV.

LETTER CARRIERS.

Sec. 135. Postmasters are authorized to employ letter carriers. They are to be nominated to, and appointed by the Postmaster General, and are required to give bonds to the United States, to be approved by him.

Sec. 136. When so appointed and qualified, the postmaster may, at his risk and responsibility, place in the hands of the carriers for delivery, all letters received, except such as are for persons who may have lodged with him a written request to retain their letters in the office.

Sec. 137. Such carriers may charge and receive two cents for every letter, and a half cent for every newspaper, delivered by them, unless otherwise directed by the Postmaster General. Act xii

Act of March 3, 1851, sec. 10

CHAPTER XV.

LOST LETTERS AND MAIL DEPREDATIONS.

Sec. 139. Money and other valuable things, sent in the mail, are at the risk of the owner. But, if they be lost, the Department will make every effort in its power to discover the cause, and, if there has been a theft, to punish the offender.

Sec. 140. In every case of loss by mail, whether supposed to be the result of casualty or of depredation, the Department should be informed without delay, of all the circumstances connected with it. Particular care should be taken to state the name of the office in which the letter was placed, the day on which it was so placed, and whether by the writer himself, or by another person, the day on which, if at all, it was actually mailed, the names of the writer and the person addressed, the amount, and if practicable, a particular description of the valuable enclosure, the amount of postage marked on the letter, and if paid, whether by money, or by stamp, the office to which addressed, and whether mailed direct thereto, or to what office for distribution, and the route by which it was sent, with any further particulars that may aid the Department in its investigation respecting the cause of loss.

Sec. 141. No reported loss will be investigated by an agent, unless satisfactory evidence is produced, either by the certificate of the postmaster, or some other disinterested individual that the money or other valuable thing was deposited in the post office.

Sec. 142. All necessary expenses that may be incurred in recovering the mail, and in apprehending the robber, will be reimbursed by the Department.

Sec. 143. In some cases it may be proper to offer a reward, not to exceed fifty dollars, payable on conviction, for the apprehension of the criminal.

Sec. 144. In every case when the criminal is apprehended, the Attorney of the United States for the district in which the offence was committed, should be promptly informed of the facts, and his advice obtained.

Sec. 145. If the prosecution be had before the Federal Court for the District, as it should be in all cases, and must be when State officers refuse to act, the Attorney of the United States will conduct it.

Sec. 146. Persons arrested for mail depredations should in all cases when it is practicable, be taken before a district, or a circuit judge, or a commissioner of the United States, for examination and commitment.

Sec. 147. In every case it is expected that postmasters will spare no exertions to have justice done, and the guilty punished, by procuring testimony, and giving the prosecution every other aid in their power.

Sec. 148. Cases of mail robbery should be at once reported to the Department, and information given from time to time, of what further transpires respecting them.

Sec. 149. At all large offices at which daily mails from other large offices are received, care should be taken to note the fact, if the usual mail from any of those offices fail for any given day to arrive, and if subsequent mails arrive, leaving that for a preceeding day still due, the mailing office should immediately be written to for information, whether such mail as that supposed to be missing, was actually sent; and if the answer be in the affirmative, a report of the loss should, without further delay, be made to the Department.

Sec. 150. If a postmaster has reason to believe that a mail has been robbed or stolen, in the vicinity of his office, he should at once examine into the evidence of the fact; and, if satisfied that such robbery or theft has actually occurred, should take immediate and energetic measures for recovering the mail, and for apprehending and prosecuting the offender.

Sec. 151. The postmaster, or one of his assistants, in all cases, immediately before the office is swept or otherwise cleared of rubbish, is to collect and examine the waste paper which has accumulated therein, in order to guard against the possibility of loss of letters or other mail matter, which may have fallen on the floor, or have been intermingled with such waste paper during the transaction of business. The observance of this rule is strictly enjoined upon all postmasters, and its violation will constitute a grave offence. Postmasters should be careful to use, in mailing letters or packets, all wrapping paper fit to be used again; and the sale of any such paper is strictly forbidden.

CHAPTER XVI.

MAIL CARRIERS, ROUTE AGENTS, AND LOCAL AGENTS.

Sec. 152. It is the duty of a mail carrier to receive and convey a letter, (and the money or a stamp of suitable denomination for its postage when tendered,) if delivered to him more than a mile from a post office, and to hand it, with the money, or stamp, into the first post office at which he arrives. A penalty of $50 attaches on failure to do so.

Sec. 153. On Railroad and Steamboat routes, it is the duty of Route agents—1st. To receive letters written after the mail has closed, and way letters pre-paid by stamps; to mail and post bill said letters, and direct them to the proper office for delivery or distribution, and to report a list of all such letters to the Contract office. 2d. To assort the mails for the several offices, being entrusted with the key to the iron lock for that purpose. 3d. To attend to the delivery and reception of mail bags. 4th. To report to the Inspection Office all irregularities of service on the route, especially every instance in which they fail to receive or deliver a mail where one is due, with the cause of such failure—which, if not known, must be ascertained by inquiry.

Sec. 154. In connection with the same class of Routes, Mail messengers, in certain cases, are appointed to carry the mail to and from Post Offices, when such offices are more than eighty rods from the steamboat landing, or railroad station.

Sec. 155. Route agents, mail messengers, and local agents, must take the usual oaths of office, and transmit them to the Inspection Office. They are thereupon exempt as mail carriers, from militia and jury duty.

Sec. 156. Mail carriers, contractors or stage drivers cannot lawfully carry out of the mail, any letter or packet, unless the same has been pre-paid by a stamped envelope of suitable denomination; but are permitted so to carry newspapers for sale or distribution to subscribers, and also pamphlets, magazines and periodicals when not marked or directed, nor intended for immediate distribution to subscribers or others, but intended for sale as merchandize and sent to some bona fide dealer, or agent for the sale thereof.

CHAPTER XVII.

THE FRANKING PRIVILEGE.

Sec. 158. The right to send and receive letters and packets through the mail, free of postage, is held either as a personal privilege, or as an official trust for the maintenance of official correspondence. In both its forms, the right varies in respect to different classes of officers and individuals, in the kind as well as weight of matters which may be so sent or received. An interchange between publishers of pamphlets, periodicals, magazines and newspapers, of their respective publications, is allowed for the purpose of promoting the dissemination of that kind of information of which they are the vehicles.

Sec. 159. The following officers and persons enjoy the right as a personal privilege, subject in the case of some of them, to the several restrictions stated and annexed.

1. The President and Vice President of the United States; the individuals who at former periods have filled the office of President and Vice President; Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. Polk, relicts of former Presidents. Restricted in the case of the Vice President, or ex-Vice Presidents, to letters and packets not weighing over two ounces and to public documents

2. Members of Congress and Delegates from Territories, during their term of office, and until the 1st Monday of December, after its expiration—Restricted to letters and packets not exceeding two ounces in weight, and public documents. Public documents are those printed by the order of either House of Congress, and publications and books procured or purchased by Congress, or either House for the use of the members.

3. The Secretary of the Senate, and the Clerk of the House of Representatives, during their official terms. Restricted as Members of Congress and Delegates.

4. Every postmaster whose commissions for the previous fiscal year, ending 30th June, did not exceed $200—Restricted to sending letters written by himself on his private business, and receiving written communications addressed to himself on his private business; such letters or written communications not to exceed half an ounce in weight. He cannot, therefore, receive or send free any description of printed matter. He cannot frank or receive free letters written by or addressed to his wife or any other member of his family, or by or to a firm of which he is a member. Neither is he authorized to frank letters containing money or other things, nor letters written by himself on the business of others, whether they be letters of subscription to editors, or publishers, or other description. The penalty for a violation of this law is $300.

Sec. 160. By the following officers, the privilege is held in trust for the maintenance of correspondence required in the performance of official duty.

1. The Secretaries of the Departments, Postmaster General and Attorney General of the United States; the 1st and 2d Comptrollers of the Treasury; the Solicitor of the Treasury; the Auditors of the Treasury; the Treasurer of the United States; the Register of the Treasury; the Assistant Secretary of State; the Assistant Secretary of the Treasury: the Commissioner of the General Land Office; the Commissioner of Customs; the Commissioner of Patents; the Commissioner of Indian Affairs; the Commissioner of Pensions; the Assistant Postmasters General; the Adjutant General of the Army; the Quarter Master General; the Inspector General; the Commissary General of Subsistence; the Paymaster General; the Chief Engineer; the Surgeon General; the Colonel of Ordnance; the Chiefs of Bureaus of the Navy Department; and the Superintendent and Assistant Superintendent of the Coast Survey—Restricted to letters and packets relating to their official duties, those sent to be marked or stamped "official business," and this declaration to be subscribed by the officer with a designation of his office. In the case of the heads of departments alone, this declaration may be subscribed under their direction by their respective Chief Clerks.

2. The Governors of States to the Governors of other States:—Restricted to laws and reports, bound or unbound, records and documents of the State, which the Legislature thereof may direct to be sent to the Executive of other States.

3 All postmasters, whether their commissions exceed or fall short of $200 per annum—restricted to letters and packets relating exclusively to the business of their offices or the Post Office Department.

NOTE. They must be marked "Post Office Business," and this declaration subscribed by the postmaster himself, with a designation of his office.

Sec. 162. Publishers of pamphlets, periodicals, magazines and newspapers, not exceeding sixteen ounces in weight, may exchange their publications reciprocally free, and may send their bills for subscriptions to their publications enclosed in them without additional postage—Restricted to one copy each of each publication.

Sec. 163. It is the practice of many to address their hand bills and newspapers in the nature of circulars or hand bills to post masters, by which means they give them an extensive circulation free of postage. This is an abuse which must be corrected. In every instance where a postmaster receives a communication, addressed to him as postmaster, which is of a private character, and designed to promote private interests, with an evident intention of giving circulation to it, without paying postage, he will return the same to the person who sent it, under a new envelope, with the charge of letter postage endorsed.

Sec. 164. If the name of the individual franking a letter be known as the handwriting of a person entitled to frank, the letter may be regarded as free, although the style of his office be omitted.

Sec. 165. No postmaster or other privileged person can authorize his assistant, clerk, or any other person to write his name for the purpose of franking any letter, public or private.

Sec 166. The personal privilege of franking travels with the person possessing it, and can be exercised in but one place at the same time.

Sec. 167. No postmaster or privileged person can leave his frank behind him upon envelopes to cover his correspondence in his absence.

Sec. 168. If letters or papers be put into a post office bearing the frank of a privileged person who notoriously has not been in that vicinity for several days; or if letters or papers marked free, be received at an office, directed to a privileged person, but notoriously intended to be received by some person not privileged, whether acting as the agent of the privileged person or not, it is the duty of the postmasters to treat them as unpaid.

Sec. 169. If any letter to or from a privileged person, be put into or received at a post office, of greater weight than such person has a right by law to frank, the postmaster will charge the excess with letter postage.

Sec. 170. It being impracticable in all cases to determine what postmasters are entitled to receive their private communications free, a manuscript letter addressed to a postmaster should not be detained in the mailing office, for the reason that the postage on it is not prepaid, except in cases where it is known that the postmaster addressed is not entitled to receive his private letters free. And if letters to any postmaster are known to relate exclusively to "post office business," being so superscribed, they should be mailed free.

Sec. 171. Any postmaster receiving a letter free, which should have been charged with postage, is bound by his oath of office to charge himself with such postage in his account with the department.

Sec. 172. Postmasters are required to report to the department all violations of the franking privilege.

Sec. 173. The law, fixing the penalty for violation at fifty dollars, provides "that no postmaster or assistant postmaster shall act as agent for lottery offices, or, under any color of purchase, or otherwise, vend lottery tickets," and that "no postmaster shall receive free of postage, or frank lottery schemes, circulars or tickets." Therefore, all such lottery schemes, circulars or tickets, addressed either to a postmaster or assistant postmaster, must hereafter be excluded from the mail, together with all other transient matter of this kind, addressed simply to an office and not to any individual.

Sec. 174. If any person shall counterfeit the hand writing, or frank of a person entitled to the franking privilege, or cause the same to be done, in order to avoid the payment of postage, each person so offending is liable to a fine of $500.

Sec. 175. Properly franked mail matter, or mail matter addressed to a person enjoying the franking privilege, is entitled to be carried free in the mail when "forwarded" to the person elsewhere, as well as in its transportation simply to the office to which originally addressed.

Sec. 176. If a postmaster, having the franking privilege, franks matter which exceeds half an ounce in weight, and which does not relate exclusively to the business of his office, or of the Post Office Department, the excess is chargeable with postage: and if not so charged at the mailing office, the charge should be made at the office of delivery. Postmasters' Assistants are forbidden by law to exercise the franking privilege under any circumstances.

CHAPTER XVIII.

ACCOUNT OF NEWSPAPERS.

Sec. 176. a. Every postmaster will keep—

1. An account in which he will enter at the beginning of the quarter, or on first receiving any particular paper, all newspapers by name that are to come regularly to his office, except such weekly papers as are free, and in the proper column opposite each paper, the amount of postage thereon for the quarter. This postage is to be collected in advance. In the same account, and in the same manner, he will enter all periodicals regularly received, and which have not been prepaid at the mailing office. At the end of the quarter he will correct this account, 1st, by adding to it all the extras, supplements and duplicates of said papers which have been received; and 2d, by deducting the amount he may have refunded for papers which failed to arrive.

2. An account in the form prescribed by the Department, of all printed matter other than that embraced in the above account, and on which the postage was payable at his office. This account will therefore include the amount of postage (required to be prepaid) on each and every transient newspaper, unsealed circular, handbill, engraving, pamphlet, periodical, magazine, book and every other description of printed matter mailed at his office, except newspapers for actual and bona fide subscribers, and periodicals published at intervals of not more than three months. It will also include the postage on any such matter deliverable at his office, which through inattention of the postmaster or otherwise, may not have been prepaid at the mailing office, and the postage on every description of printed matter mailed or received at his office to or from foreign countries.

CHAPTER XIX.

ACCOUNTS AND RETURNS OF POSTMASTERS.

Sec. 177. At the end of every quarter, which is on the last day of March, June, September, and December, every postmaster must make up his accounts, and forward trancsripts of them to the 3d Assistant Postmaster General. The originals must be filed by the postmaster with his general account, and will, like it, be held subject to inspection.

Sec. 178. In case of death, resignation, or removal of a postmaster, or discontinuance of an office; or in case of the giving of a new official bond in consequence of a change in the name of an office, the expiration of the term for which the postmaster may have been appointed, or otherwise, the accounts must be made up to the day, (though it be not the end of a quarter,) in which the office ceases to operate, or the new appointment, or the new bond, as the case may be, takes effect.

Sec. 179. Many postmasters have been in the habit of forwarding to the department, contrary to regulation, their original accounts, keeping no duplicate or copy. This violation of rule cannot be permitted or overlooked. Transcripts or copies only must be sent, and the original accounts must be carefully preserved for inspection by any agent of the department who may require it.

Sec. 180. The quarterly account current, and all other official papers, must be signed by the postmaster himself, unless necessarily absent or sick, in which case, it may be signed as follows:

A——— B———, P. M.
by C——— D———, Ass't P. M.

The blank heading of the account current is to be filled up with the name of the office, its County, District, or Parish, and State.

Sec. 181. The accounts of all postmasters are examined and adjusted by the Auditor as they are received, and the errors, if there be any, are carefully corrected, and the postmaster notified of such as increase by as much as fifty cents, the balance due to the United States.

Sec. 182. Postmasters, therefore, will understand that any alteration in the balances of their accounts is occasioned either by the correction of some numerical error, or by some deviation, on their part, from a strict conformity to the law, and these instuctions.

Sec. 183. If any postmaster shall neglect to render his accounts for one month after the time, and in the form and manner prescribed by law, and by the Postmaster General's instructions, he shall forfeit double the value of postages which shall have arisen at his office.

Sec. 184. The postmaster, though he may have mailed his accounts will not be considered as discharged from the penalty mentioned in the foregoing section, unless within one month, after being notified that they have not been received at the Department, he transmits duplicate transcripts from the original accounts retained in his possession.

CHAPTER XX.

PAPERS AND ACCOUNTS TO BE RETURNED TO THE POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT, BY POSTMASTERS.

Sec. 185. The Quarterly Return is composed of the following accounts and papers, viz:

1. A transcript of the Account of mails sent from the office for the quarter. The entries in this account must, of course, be made every post day, before the mail is sent from the office, and at all large offices, it should be transcribed daily.
2. A transcript of the Account of mails received at the office for the quarter. At all large offices, the entries in this account should be made daily, and it should be transcribed daily, so as to prevent any delay in making it out at the close of the quarter.
3. A transcript of the Account of regular Newspapers and Pamphlets received at the office during the quarter, to which is to be added the amount of the Miscellaneous Account.
4. From the post offices where such accounts should be kept, a transcript of the Account of Ship and Steamboat letters received in the quarter, and the moneys paid for them.
5. A transcript of the Account of Letters sent by sea from the offices at sea ports.
6. All the post bills received from other offices during the quarter.
7. Accounts and receipts for contingent expenses.
8. The Dead letters, and a bill or bills of them.
9. From Distributing offices, a transcript of the Accounts of mails received for Distribution.
10. The Account current.
11. The Transcripts of Registered letters received and sent, and the Registered letter bills, must be put in the return, in a separate package.

Sec. 186. Postmasters are strictly required to fill the blanks in the account current at the head of each page of their accounts of mails received and sent, and carefully to add each and every column of said accounts. They will then recapitulate the amount of each column on a blank page, so as to enable the Auditor to report quarterly the aggregate amount of such columns.

Sec. 187. The commission account and the emolument account, with the vouchers belonging to them—must also accompany the quarterly account of all postmasters whose duty it is to render such accounts.

Sec. 188. To ensure a correct and expeditious settlement of the quarterly accounts of postmasters, it is indispensable that each return should arrive at the Department in one perfect, unbroken bundle or packet. Each postmaster, therefore, should observe the following directions in packing up his return for transmission in the mail, viz:

Sec. 189. Put up each part of the return if large, in a separate parcel, with strong paper, tying it with twine, and writing on each parcel its proper contents, and the name of the office, county, and State.—Then pack up all the parcels, constituting the entire quarterly return, in one compact bundle or packet, and having postmarked it, direct it plainly to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Post Office Department.

Sec. 190. No letter, receipt, paper, or other thing whatever, not strictly belonging to the quarterly return, as enumerated and described in this chapter, should be put up in it.

CHAPTER XXI.

THE QUARTERLY ACCOUNT CURRENT.

Sec. 191. The Quarterly Account Current is numbered to consist of 30 articles:—

In article 1 every postmaster will make himself debtor for the whole amount of postage on the unpaid letters, if any, which remained on hand at the close of the preceding quarter.

In article 2 every postmaster will make himself debtor for the whole amount of the postage on all unpaid letters. This article he will find in the first column of mails received from other offices.

In article 3 every postmaster, will make himself a debtor for the amount of postage on the way-letters received at his office, for delivery; this he will find in the second column of his Account of mails received.

In article 4 every postmaster will next debit himself with the amount of postage undercharged. This amount he will find in the third column of his Account of mails received.

In articles 5 and 6 every postmaster will next debit himself with the number and amount of ship and steamboat letters received for delivery. This article he will find in the first column of his Account of Ship and Steamboat letters.

In article 7 every postmaster will debit himself with the amount of postage paid in money on letters sent from his office. This amount he will find in the third column of mails sent.

Every Postmaster of a distributing post office will next debit himself with the amount (if any,) of letters for delivery received at his office in the distribution bills.

In article 8 every Postmaster will debit himself with the amount of postage on drop letters. This amount he will find in the eighth column of mails received.

In article 9 every postmaster will debit himself with the whole amount he has paid during the quarter for advertising letters, and credited as contingent expenses. He will mark the cost of advertising on each letter advertised. Upon every letter delivered, he will collect this cost in addition to the postage, and upon those remaining, sent as dead letters to the Department, he will charge it.

In article 10, every postmaster will next credit himself with the amount of postage on letters which have been missent to and forwarded from his office, and the amount overcharged on letters received at his office. This amount he will find in the fourth column of his amount of mails received.

In Article 11, every postmaster will credit himself with the amount of postage on unpaid dead letters, if any, remaining in his office at the end of the quarter, and on letters refused or which could not be delivered, and sent to the Department as dead. This credit will include the cost of advertising any letters returned, and its amount will be the aggregate amount of the bill then to be made out, and of bills sent at the end of each of the two previous months of the quarter, of which he has retained duplicates.

In article 12 the amount of postage of unpaid letters if any, on hand at the close of the quarter is now to be entered to his credit. This is a temporary credit, given because the postmaster is already charged with the amount in the debit part of this account. The exact sum of this temporary credit must be entered to his debit in the first article of his next account, whether any of the letters be delivered out or be returned as dead letters or otherwise.

Having added together the sums of the first nine mentioned articles and placed the amount at the foot of the column, and at the foot of the column in the same line opposite, he will then deduct the sum of the articles 10, 11 and 12 from this amount, and the balance will be the amount of letter postage collected by him this quarter.

The balance which has been placed on the credit side of the account as article 13, is now to be entered to his debit as article 14.

In article 15 every postmaster will next debit himself with the whole amount of postage on the regular newspapers and periodicals, and other printed matter which he has received from other offices during the quarter, and the amount of postages on transient and miscellaneous newspapers.

In article 16 every postmaster will deduct, if entered in the account, the amount of postage on such newspapers as have continued during the quarter to come to the office, after he has given the publishers three months' notice that they are not taken out. He will sell such newspapers, and in article 18 he will charge himself with he amount received therefor.

In article 17 postmasters will enter the amount of fees received for registry of letters. Postmasters will next add the amount of postages collected on letters and newspapers, represented by articles 15 and 18, and place the amount in the column in the same line opposite.

If the postmaster has received stamps or stamped envelopes direct from the Department, or from his predecessor, he will include the balances resulting from articles 19, 20 and 21 in this addition.

In article 22 each postmaster will credit himself with the amount of mail registers returned by him during the quarter.

In article 23, comprehending five different rates, every postmaster will next cast his commission on the amount of postage collected on letters during the quarter, including the amount prepaid by stamps and stamped envelopes, to be found in the second column of mails sent.

In articles 24 and 25 every postmaster will next cast his commission on the amount of postage collected on newspapers and other printed matter, including the postage on such printed matter prepaid at his office by stamps or stamped envelopes, at 50 per cent. and enter it in this place.

In article 26, postmasters will enter the amount of fees received for registry of letters, casting their commissions at 80 per cent. thereof. Also the number of weekly newspapers delivered to subscribers not chargeable with postage.

In article 27, if the commission on letters, newspapers and other printed matter does not exceed $500 in one quarter, the postmaster will then set down the number of free letters received by mail for delivery at the office, and carry the amount at one cent each to his credit. This number he will find in the ninth column of his Account of mails received.

In article 28, the postmaster will next set down the number of ship and steamboat letters which he has paid for this quarter and enter the amount of such payment. These sums he will find in the second and third columns of his Account of Ship and Steamboat letters received.

In article 29, the postmaster will next state the number, and credit himself with the amount paid, the mail carrier for way letters. No form is prescribed for keeping this account.

Sec. 192. In article 30, it now remains for the Postmaster to enter the amount of Contingent Expenses, which consist of wrapping paper and twine, advertising of letters, repair of mail bags, and a desk, or case, for the safe keeping of letters. But, at offices where the commissions amount to $50 per annum, wrapping paper and twine must be procured of the contractors for furnishing the same.

Sec. 193. The postmaster will now strike the balance of the account which should show how much he is indebted to the Department for postages for the given quarter.

Sec. 194. As this Account Current is intended to show the net proceeds of the office for the quarter, no balance due on a former quarter, nor any payment to, or collection for, the Department is to be inserted in it. All vouchers for expenses charged in the quarterly account, or in the Commission or Emolument account, must be transmitted with the said accounts; and if for advertising letters, must state the number of letters. Unreasonable delay not only implies neglect of the public business, but is calculated to bring suspicion upon the claims withheld; and the Department, therefore, reserves to itself the right to reject all such claims made after the quarterly accounts have been adjusted.

Sec. 195. Postmasters whose commissions amount to $500 per quarter, are allowed to charge, among the contingent expenses, advertisements of the arrivals and departures of the mails, and will limit such charge to an advertisement of three weeks only—once each week.

Sec. 196. Besides the printer's account, and receipt for advertising letters, the newspaper containing the advertisement must be transmitted therewith.

CHAPTER XXII.

GENERAL ACCOUNT.

Sec. 197. Every postmaster will keep in his office a General or Ledger account with the United States, for the service of the Post Office Department, subject to the inspection of the Postmaster General, or of any general or special agent of the Department, and a copy of which is to be furnished to the Auditor, from time to time, when required.

Sec. 198. In the general account, every postmaster will credit the United States with the balances due on his quarterly returns as acknowledged, and when notified by the Auditor of any corrections made on examination thereof, he will make the corresponding corrections in the general account, or enter the proper credit therfor.

Sec. 199. The postmaster will likewise credit all sums collected by, or deposited with him, on account of the Department, and will debit the account with all sums paid over for the general service of the Department, whether by deposite, upon draft, or upon collection order. A draft office may be required to deposite, or to pay on a collection order, or a collection office to deposite or to pay on a draft.

Sec. 200. The duplicate quarterly accounts, the duplicate certificates of deposite, the duplicate collection orders and the drafts paid, and also all instructions, are to be filed as vouchers with this account, and be subject to inspection.

Sec. 201. The postmaster, upon being furnished with a statement of his general account as kept by the Auditor, will immediately compare it with his account as kept by himself, and at once acknowledge to the Auditor the balance appearing on such statement, or point out the particulars wherein the accounts disagree.

CHAPTER XXIII.

COLLECTION OF DEBTS.

Sec. 202. The collection of debts due to the Post Office Department, whether by postmasters, contractors, or other persons, is assigned by the act of July, 1836, to the Auditor of the Treasury for the Post Office Department.

Sec. 203. When such debts, if collected, would overpay the contractor for the route, on or near which the debtor resides, or when for other reasons the Auditor finds it more convenient to employ a postmaster in the vicinity, the latter will consider himself as a special agent of the Department for this purpose, and will obey such orders as he may receive from the Auditor in respect to such collection. If the debt is collected, the postmaster will give notice to the Auditor, by transmitting his receipt for its amount, and will credit the same in his general account with the United States, for the service of the Post Office Department.

Sec. 204. If the exertions of the postmaster to collect prove unavailing, he will communicate to the Auditor the causes of the failure, and also the pecuniary circumstances of the parties, if alive, or of their estates, and the name of their administrators, if dead.

Sec. 205. If due diligence be not used in making the collection, or if, being unsuccessful, any postmaster fail to return the draft or demand to the Auditor, or otherwise to give notice of such failure, or fail to give any information required in relation to the same, such neglect and want of fidelity will amount to a breach of the condition of his bond, for which the damages will be recoverable; and will moreover be considered just ground of removal from office.

CHAPTER XXIV.

PAYING OVER MONEY TO THE USE, OR FOR THE SERVICE OF THE POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

Sec. 206. No moneys are to be paid directly into the Department, neither are any paid out directly by it. The proceeds of postage, or moneys received for postage stamps, or stamped envelopes sold, will, therefore, never be remitted by postmasters to the Department, nor be paid to any of its officers or agents, without due authority from the Postmaster General.

Sec. 207. For the purpose of paying over the funds of the Department, all the Post Offices, except Special Offices, are classed either as Deposite Offices, Draft Offices, or Collection Offices. Offices are transferred from time to time from one to another of these classes, to suit the convenience of the service, and when such changes are necessary, they are notified to the postmasters, respectively, by a circular letter.

Sec. 208. Deposite offices are such as are ordered to place, quarterly or oftener, their funds in deposite in some Depository.

Sec. 209. Draft offices are those which are ordered to retain their funds in hand, to meet drafts drawn by the Postmaster General, and countersigned by the Auditor of the Post Office Department.

Sec. 210. Collection offices are those which are required to pay over their net proceeds quarterly to the mail contractor named in their special instructions, upon the production by him, from time to time, of the proper orders and receipts sent to him by the Department. In these quarterly payments must be included all moneys received for postage stamps and stamped envelopes sold.

Sec. 211. Certain postmasters are designated as depositaries of the funds of the offices in their vicinity, and the postmasters at such offices are ordered to deposit quarterly with them.

Sec. 212. A failure, either to deposit according to instructions, or to pay a draft when presented, or to pay over to a contractor, upon the production of the proper collection orders and receipts, will be followed by the removal of the delinquent postmaster from office, unless satisfactorily explained to the Postmaster General.

Sec. 213. Want of funds can never be an excuse for failing to pay, or to deposite; as the postmaster is not authorized to give credit for postages, which are regarded as cash in his hands. In like manner he is prohibited from using, loaning, investing, depositing in bank, or exchanging moneys received for postages, on pain of criminal prosecution.

Sec. 214. A postmaster cannot refuse to pay a draft or collection order, because the contractor is indebted to him, nor because there is an unsettled private account between them, nor upon any other pretext; but such refusal is made, by the law, prima facie evidence of embezzlement, subjecting him to punishment.

Sec. 215. Every postmaster under orders to place his funds in a depository, will take duplicate certificates of each deposit, signed by the proper officer, one of which should be transmitted to the Third Assistant Postmaster General by the first mail thereafter, as the postmaster will not be entitled to a credit until the reception of the certificate at the Department.

Sec. 216. The deposite should include the whole amount due, whether for postage at the office; for postage stamps and stamped envelopes; or for collections or deposites made with the postmaster on account of the Department or otherwise.

Sec. 217. Postmasters at collection offices must be ready to pay over at the end of each quarter, and will transmit the contractor's receipt by the very first mail after payment is made. Such payments must include the whole amount on hand, whether arising from the postages of the quarter, or any preceding quarters, from sales of postage stamps or stamped envelopes—or from moneys collected by, or deposited with the postmaster. The receipts must never be put up with the quarterly return, but should be sent under a separate envelope, addressed to the Auditor for the Post Office Department.

Sec. 218. Every Postmaster of a "special office" will report to the Postmaster General, at the end of each quarter, the balance in his hands, over and above the sums due the contractor for supplying his office with the mail, in order that the Department may make a proper disposition of such balance.

Sec. 219. Postmasters at "special offices," when under orders to pay their respective contractors, will not only pay promptly, but lose no time in transmitting to the Auditor for the Post Office Department the receipts taken for their quarterly payments.

Sec. 220. All payments to the Department, whether upon drafts, or otherwise, must be in specie; and postmasters, in receiving payment of postages, or other dues to the Department, should always bear in mind that they are bound to pay them over in the legal currency of the United States.

Sec. 221. No allowance can be made to a postmaster for deficiency in weight of money received for postage. Neither can any allowance or renumeration be made for losses by fire, robbery, or theft, nor can compensation be made for collecting or paying over moneys to the Department, not arising from postages at his office.

CHAPTER XXV.

APPLICATIONS FOR PAYMENT AND RENEWAL OF LOST DRAFTS OR WARRANTS.

Sec. 222. In all cases where application is made for the issue of a duplicate draft or warrant, upon the allegation that the original is lost, every such application must be addressed to the Auditor for the Post Office Department, and must be accompanied by a statement, on oath or affirmation, by the applicant, or the person who is the legal holder thereof, showing the time, place, and all the circumstances attending the loss or destruction of the draft or warrant, with its number, date and amount; in whose favor it was issued; and if assigned, to whom made payable; together with any other particulars relating to it within the knowledge of the applicant.

Sec. 223. The applicant must also produce a letter or certificate from the officer or person on whom the draft or warrant may have been drawn, showing that it has not been paid—also that payment of the same will not thereafter be made to the owner, or any other person whatever.

Sec. 224. The duplicate, when issued, shall have the same tenor, force, and effect as the original, unless in case of assignment, the assignee of the lost draft produce due authority from the drawee for the issue of the duplicate in his own favor.

CHAPTER XXVI.

COMMISSIONS OF POSTMASTERS.

Sec. 225. Postmasters are entitled, by law, since July 1, 1854, to the following commissions on the amount of postages received by them in each quarter of the year, AND IN DUE PROPORTION FOR ANY FRACTIONAL PART OF A QUARTER; but no Postmaster can receive a larger compensation from commissions than $500 per quarter:

"On a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars, 60 per cent.; on a sum over the first, and not exceeding four hundred dollars, 50 per cent.; on a sum over and above the first four hundred dollars, and not exceeding twenty-four hundred dollars, 40 per cent.; on all sums over twenty-four hundred dollars, 15 per cent.;" consequently these rates of commission are—

60 per cent.	on the first		$100
50 "	"	next	300
40 "	"	"	2,000
15 "	on all over		2,400

Sec. 226. The rate of commission upon letter postages prepaid by stamps is the same as if the whole letter postages were collected in money; that is, in summing up the amounts on which commissions are calculated, the amount of letter postages on those prepaid by stamps sent will be included in the general amount the same as though the whole letter postages were collected in money; but they should be entered in the proper line in the account current.

Sec. 227. The rate of commission on newspaper postages is fifty per cent., in all cases, whether the amount be large or small.

Sec. 228. One cent is allowed for the delivery of each free manuscript letter, (those addressed to the Postmaster excepted,) to offices where the commission does not amount to $500 per quarter.

Sec. 229. On the postages of letters received for distribution at the General Distribution Offices, a commission of 12½ per cent. is allowed.

Sec. 230. On the postage of letters received at a frontier office and sent to Canada, a commission of 3½ per cent., and on those received from Canada for distribution, a commission of 7 per cent. is allowed. The amounts should be made up of postages received from and sent to Canada offices, and not United States offices.

Sec. 231. An allowance of two mills will be made for each weekly newspaper, not chargeable with postage, delivered to an actual subscriber living within the county where such paper is published: Provided, such papers are properly entered upon the transcript; that is, the transcript should show the number of subscribers, how often and where published, and also the total number of papers. This does not include "exchanges" between editors and publishers. Whenever the allowance is claimed by a Postmaster out of the county for papers delivered to subscribers living within the county where the paper is published, the Postmaster must state this fact, in writing, on the transcript, or the allowance will not be made.

Sec. 232. Ten cents is allowed for each monthly register of the arrival and departure of the mails, when required by and returned to the Department.

Sec. 233. At offices where the mail is, by contract, to arrive regularly between the hours of 9 o'clock in the evening and 5 o'clock in the morning, 70 instead of 60 per cent. is allowed on the first hundred dollars of letter postage: Provided, such Postmaster transmit, with his quarterly return, his certificate to the following effect, viz:

POST OFFICE, ——— ———, 185—.

"I certify that the regular time for the arrival of the mail at my office, for the quarter ending ——— ———, was between the hours of 9 o'clock in the evening and 5 o'clock in the morning.

"——— ———, P. M."

Note.—Unless the certificate is in due form, and is made a part of the return in which the allowance is claimed, it will not be made.

Sec. 234. Letter postages prepaid by stamps should not be included in the "postage of paid letters sent," on No. 7 of the account current, but the amount prepaid by stamps must be stated on the credit side of the account, on No. 23, for the purpose of calculating commissions thereon; and the same regulation applies to newspapers prepaid by stamps.

Sec. 235. Postmasters are not allowed any commission on printed matter made free by the frank of a member of Congress.

Sec. 236. The postmaster who collects the postage on newspapers, periodicals, magazines, &c., quarterly or yearly in advance, is entitled to the commssions on the same, although he may go out of office immediately thereafter and the paper or periodical be delivered by his successor. He should, however, leave in the office a record of all such payments.

Sec 237. The annual compensation to which postmasters are limited will be computed for the fiscal year commencing the first of July, and ending the 30th of June, and in due proportion for any period less than a year.

CHAPTER XXVII.

MAIL CONTRACTS AND BIDS.

Sec. 238. The Union is divided into four contract sections; a letting for one of these sections occurs every year, and contracts are made at such lettings for four consecutive years, commencing on the first day of July.

Sec. 239. The sections and their current contract terms are—

1. Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, and New York—current term to end 30th June, 1857.

2. New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, and Ohio—current term to end 30th June, 1856.

3. Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida—current term to end 30th June, 1859.

4. Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, California, Minnesota, Oregon, New Mexico, Utah, Washington, Nebraska and Kansas.—current term to end 30th June, 1858.

Sec. 240. Each contractor will execute with sureties, contracts in duplicate, both to be returned to the Contract Office. One of these duplicates will be preserved in the Contract Office, and one reported to the Auditor. A copy will be furnished to the contractor by the Contract Office, if requested.

Sec. 241. If a post office depend for its supply of the mail upon the postages it collects, and the net proceeds thereof fall short of the amount which the contractor or carrier may be authorized to receive, he will have no claim on the Department for the deficiency. If, however, the proceeds of the office supplied, for a portion of the term of a special contract, fall short of the sum allowable to the contractor, and during another portion of that term exceed it, the excess, or so much thereof as may be necessary for that purpose, is to be applied to the payment of the deficiency.

Sec. 242. During the existence of a contract for supplying an office, the postmaster can only pay according to instructions, or in conformity with the contract, and he must forward to the Auditor the receipt of the contractor for each payment, immediately upon the close of the quarter.

Sec. 243. When any contractor fails to commence or abandons the service stipulated in his contract, it becomes the duty of the postmasters at the ends of the route to report the fact to the Contract Office, and to furnish the name of the person who will enter into contract at the lowest price, for the residue of the term.

Sec. 244. After the expiration of a contract, and until the Postmaster General has decided upon a new contract, of upon the expediency of discontinuing the office, postmasters cannot make any payment unless expressly authorized to do so by the Postmaster General.

Sec. 245. Contractors are required, in all cases, to carry the entire mail, and are not permitted to leave bags of newspapers and pamphlets on their routes; they must give due attention to the preservation of mail bags, and must not allow them to be dragged about upon the pavement, or otherwise injured.

Sec. 246. The Postmaster General may annul a contract for failures on the part of the contractor; for violating the Post Office laws; disobeying the instructions of the Department; for refusing to discharge a carrier when required by the Department, or for assigning the contract without the consent of the Postmaster General.

Sec. 247. The Postmaster General is prohibited by law from knowingly making a contract for the transportation of the mail with any person who shall have entered into any combination, or proposed to enter into any combination, to prevent the making of any bid for a mail contract by any other person or persons, or who shall have made any agreement, or shall have given or performed, or promised to give or perform, any consideration to do or not to do, anything whatever in order to induce any other person or persons not to bid for a mail contract.

Sec. 248. A bid received after the time designated in the advertisement, or without the guaranty required by law, or that combines several routes in one sum of compensation, cannot be considered in competition with a regular proposal not adjudged to be extravagant.

Sec. 249. The Postmaster General may annul the contract for repeated failures; for violating the Post Office laws; for disobeying the instructions of the Department; for refusing to discharge a carrier when required by the Department; for assigning the contract without the consent of the Postmaster General, or for setting up or running an express as aforesaid, or for transporting persons conveying mail matter out of the mail.

Sec. 250. The Postmaster General may alter the contract, and alter the schedule, he allowing a pro rata increase of compensation, within the restrictions imposed by law, for the additional service required or for increased speed, if the employment of additional stock or carriers is rendered necessary; but the contractor may, in case of increased expedition, relinquish the contract on timely notice, if he prefer it to the change.

Sec. 251. The Postmaster General may annul the contract, or discontinue, or curtail the service and pay, when he wishes to dispense with the service, in whole or in part, or to place a higher or different grade of service on the route, or whenever the public interests require such discontinuance or curtailment for any other cause, he allowing one month's extra pay on the amount of service dispensed with.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

OF SCHEDULE CHANGES, TRANSFERS, AND MAIL MESSENGERS.

Sec. 252. An application for schedule change cannot be granted—

1. Without the assent of the Postmasters at the ends of the Route, excepting in case of manifest necessity.

2. Or, unless agreed to by the Contractor, except in cases where the propriety of the change is clearly shown.

3. It cannot be granted if more running time is asked than is given in the contract schedules;—

4. Or, if it breaks connection with any other Route.

5. Or, if it puts the Mail on a wrong day for the Newspapers circulated over the Route.

6. Or, if it prevents or lessens any other special accomodation to the public.

7. Or, if it fails to show a good reason for the change.

Sec. 253. Application for transfer of contracts should be in the following form, viz:

ROUTE No. from to

miles times per week.

I request that the contract for the above Route and service be duly transferred to and made with of in lieu of myself, to take effect from

(to be signed by the Contractor.)

I agree to take the contract for the above named Route, and service, as proposed by Mr. and will engage to perform the service required thereon.

(to be signed by the proposed transferee.)

I am well acquainted with Mr. and recommend him as a responsible and suitable person to convey the mail on the above named Route.

(to be signed by a Postmaster.)

Sec. 254. The following Regulations apply to mail messenger service:

1. Mail messengers are not required to execute a contract, and are not appointed for a definite period.
2. Such service is not to be employed without express authority from the Contract office.
3. The Railroad and Steamboat contractors are to have it performed at all offices within a quarter of a mile of their depots, stations, or landings, as well as at the terminal offices of their routes.
4. The compensation of messengers engaged by the Department is always limited to the net yield of the offices supplied.
5. Postmasters cannot draw pay for the performance of such duty

CHAPTER XXIX.

ATTENTION TO THE MANNER OF CARRYING THE MAILS.

Sec. 255. Every postmaster will consider himself the agent of the Department, in regard to its affairs in his immediate vicinity, so far as to carefully observe, and promptly report to it, everything tending to affect its interests, efficiency and utility.

Sec. 256. It is especially expected that he will keep a vigilant eye upon the manner in which the mails are carried to and from his office. This is amongst the most important of his duties.

Sec. 257. Postmasters will report every instance in which the mail is brought to his office by a person under the age of 16 years, or who has not been duly sworn.

Sec. 258. If a mail-carrier, having the mail in charge, become intoxicated, he will instantly dismiss him, employ another at the expense of the contractor, and report the facts to the Department.

Sec. 259. He will report promptly all irregularities of mail-carriers, in charge of the mail, and the causes, when known.

Sec. 260. If the mail arrive without a lock, he will ascertain where the fault is, and report it to the Department.

Sec. 261. If the mail be carried on horseback, he will see that it be covered with an oil-cloth or bear-skin: If in a stage, that it be carried in a secure dry boot under the driver's feet, or in the box which constitutes the driver's seat: If in a sulky or other vehicle, he will see that it be well protected from the weather.

Sec. 262. He will also carefully observe how mails are carried by any steamers landing near his office, and will report to the Inspection Office every case in which he finds them exposed on deck, or not secured in some proper place under lock and key.

Sec. 263. When the newspaper mail, on a stage route, is large, and separate from the letter mail, it may be carried in the boot behind the stage, but it must not be exposed to the weather.

Sec. 264. Postmasters will report all instances in which the mails are carried without being secured from the weather, as above directed.

Sec. 265. When the mail stops over night where there is a post-office, it must be kept in the office.

CHAPTER XXX.

REPORT OF ARRIVALS AND DEPARTURES OF THE MAILS TO BE MADE BY POSTMASTERS.

Sec. 266. Postmasters at the ends of every mail route, and such others as the Postmaster General may direct, will keep registers of the arrival and departure of mails which are opened at their offices, respectively, setting forth the exact time of each arrival and departure, and the manner of the conveyance when it varies from the contract, and giving the reasons for every delinquency or failure to arrive at the time prescribed in the schedules, if known to them, or can be ascertained by them on proper inquiry.

Sec. 267. Postmasters at the ends of routes on which the mails are carried less than six times a week, will forward the Register to the Department at the close of every month.

Sec. 268. Postmasters at the ends of all routes on which the mails are carried six times a week or more, will return these Registers at the close of each week, unless otherwise specially directed.

Sec. 269. Whenever the mail is carried by any other person than the contractor or his authorized agent or carrier, the fact is to be noted on the Register.

Sec. 270. Besides these stated tabular reports, postmasters at the ends of routes and also at intermediate points will promptly report by letter, all extraordinary failures, interruptions or abandonment of routes; and in fact give from time to time, all such information as may aid the Department in enforcing the strictest performance of duty on the part of contractors and securing for the community the greatest possible regularity, safety and efficiency in the mail service.

Sec. 271. Special reports, and all complaints of mail failures, should state the number, or, if the number is not known, the termini of the route.

Sec. 272. Particular care must be exercised in the making out of all registers of arrivals and departures of the mails. The blanks at the head of each should all be properly filled—giving the name, county and State of the office, the number of the route, and the names of the places where it terminates, with the contract days and hours of arrival and departure. All registers should be fully dated—showing the day of the week, the month and the year. When there is a failure to arrive or depart, write opposite to its date "Failure;" when a failure to connect, write "Failed to connect;" and when a complaint for failure to arrive in time, write "Complaint."

CHAPTER XXXI.

FAILURES OF MAILS AND FINES.

Sec. 273. Failures of mails to arrive at the ends of routes and other points within contract time, cannot but be known in all cases to contractors or their agents.

Sec. 274. No notice, therefore, is necessary to be given to contractors of failures to arrive in any post office in contract time, as reported by postmasters to the Department, but when the failure is caused by the neglect of a carrier employed by the contractor, the postmaster will notify the contractor of the failure and require him to take measures to prevent its recurrence.

Sec. 275 Should a mail at any time fail to arrive at the end of a route, or at any intermediate post office, where the time of arrival is fixed, within the time specified in the contract or schedule, it will be expected of every contractor immediately, by himself or agent, to send his excuse to the Inspection Office, setting forth, particularly, the cause of the failure; and if, after waiting a reasonable time, no specific and satisfactory excuse be received, the Chief Clerk is directed to present the case thus reported to the Postmaster General for fine.

Sec. 276. A specific excuse is required for each specific delinquency of any contractor; so that general allegations will not be admitted. If bad roads be alleged, a specific report must be made of what portion of the road was so bad as to obstruct the mails, and what was its peculiar condition; if high waters, it must be shown what water courses were impassable; and so of all other excuses.

Sec. 277. In all cases there is to be a forfeiture of the pay of the trip when the trip is not run; and of not more than three times the pay of the trip when the trip is not run, and no sufficient excuse for the failure is furnished; a forfeiture of at least one-fourth part of it when the running or arrival is so far behind time as to lose the connexion with a depending mail; and forfeiture of a due proportion of it when a grade of service is rendered inferior to that in the contract. These forfeitures may be increased into penalties of higher amount, according to the nature or frequency of the failures and the importance of the mail.

Sec. 278. Whenever it be satisfactorily shown that the contractors, their carriers, or agents, have left or put aside the mail, or any portion of it, for the accommodation of passengers, they shall forfeit not exceeding a quarter's pay.

Sec. 279. Fines will be imposed unless the delinquency be satisfactorily explained in due time, for failing to take from, or deliver at, a post office, the mail or any part of it: for suffering it to be wet, injured, lost, or destroyed: for conveying it in a place or manner that exposes it to depredation, loss, or injury; for refusing after demand to convey a mail by any coach, railroad car, or steamboat, which the contractor regularly runs, or is concerned in running, on the route, beyond the specified number of trips in the contract. and for not arriving at the time set: and for setting up or running an express to transmit commercial intelligence in advance of the mail, a penalty will be exacted equal to a quarter's pay.

CHAPTER XXXII.

POSTAGE STAMPS AND STAMPED ENVELOPES.

Sec. 280. To facilitate the prepayment of postages upon letters and packages, postage stamps and stamped envelopes, of suitable denominations, are provided and furnished by the Postmaster General, pursuant to the acts of Congress on the subject.

Sec. 281. These stamps and envelopes are furnished only to postmasters for sale. Postmasters who fail to supply themselves from the Department must purchase temporary supplies from the nearest offices, for cash.

Sec. 282. Postmasters who purchase stamps or stamped envelopes from other postmasters, under the preceding regulation, are not required to render to the Department any account of such purchases and sales.

Sec. 283. Every postmaster receiving stamps or stamped envelopes for sale, directly from the Department, will, at the end of each quarter, charge himself in his quarterly account current, with any amount of such articles he may have received from his predecessor, or which remained on hand at the close of the preceding quarter, adding thereto the amounts received from the Department during the quarter just ended, and crediting himself with the amount of stamps and envelopes then remaining on hand The balance of the account thus stated will represent the amount of stamps and stamped envelopes sold, which must be added on the debit side of his quarterly account current to the amount due on the regular return of postages for the quarter.

Sec. 284. In case of resignation, removal, or death, the postmaster, or his representative, will not be allowed a credit for any stamps or envelopes, turned over to his successor, unless such successor have duly qualified by giving bond; nor unless his receipt for the amount shall be transmitted to the Auditor for the Post Office Department before the end of the quarter in which the stamps or envelopes were turned over.

Sec. 285. If any parcel of postage stamps or stamped envelopes be damaged, the Postmaster will sign the receipt for the whole amount of the parcel, and, having written across the face of the receipt the number and amount of stamps or envelopes unfit for use, he will return such, together with the receipt, to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, who will give credit for the amount returned. But if the damage be total, the entire parcel should be returned, with the receipt not signed, that a parcel in order may be sent in place of them. If the damaged stamps or envelopes be not returned, no credit therefor will be given.

Sec. 286. Postmasters are expected, in each case, to order such quantity as upon a careful estimate, may be deemed a sufficient supply of the various kinds of stamps and envelopes for three months; and they are required. in every instance, to write the name of the post office, county, and State plainly at the head of their orders, which should be signed by the Postmasters themselves, and relate to no other subject whatsoever.

Sec. 287. The envelopes are to be sold FOR CASH to postmasters and all other persons, at the following rates, viz: No. 1, or note size, at 18 cents a hundred, in addition to the value of the stamps; No. 2, or letter size, at 20 cents a hundred, in addition to the value of the stamps; and No. 3, or official size, at 32 cents a hundred, in addition to the value of the stamps.

Sec. 288. In making sale of envelopes, Postmasters are expected to evince a due spirit of accommodation, but they are not required to lose the fractions of a cent in selling small quantities; and, if a Postmaster cannot readily make change, the purchaser must tender the exact amount for the number he wants.

Sec. 289. The law makes no compensation to postmasters for the sale of postage stamps or stamped envelopes, except by the allowance of commissions on such as are used in pre-payment of postage on letters and packages sent from their offices; neither does it allow any discount to those who purchase.

Sec. 290 The 2d Section of the act of 3rd March, 1855, provides that it shall not be lawful for any postmaster or other person to sell any postage stamp or stamped envelope for any larger sum than that indicated upon the face of such postage stamp or for a larger sum than that charged therefor by the Post Office Department, and that any person who shall violate this provision shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof shall be find in any sum not less than ten nor more than five hundred dollars. Postage stamps will therefore be sold for no more than their face; and stamped envelopes for no more than Postmasters are charged for them by the Department.

Sec. 291. Postage stamps and stamped envelopes, may be used in pre-payment of postage on letters to foreign countries, in all cases where such pre-payment can be made in money.

Sec. 292. When letters to foreign countries are pre-paid by stamps or stamped envelopes, the mailing Postmaster should cancel the stamps, and be careful to rate and mark the letters with red ink as if prepaid in money.

Sec. 293. A Postmaster may not refuse to mail and forward a letter as pre-paid, because the postage stamp or stamps affixed to it, or envelopes containing it, were not purchased at his office.

Sec. 294. A letter bearing a stamp, cut or separated from a stamped envelope, cannot be sent through the mail as a prepaid letter. Stamps, so cut or separated from stamped envelopes lose their legal value.

Sec. 295. All postage stamps affixed to letters, packets or parcels of any description, and all stamped envelopes, must be immediately and effectually cancelled, in the office in which the letters, packets or parcels may be deposited for transmission or delivery. The cancellation should be effected by the use of black printer's ink wherever that material can be obtained; and where it cannot, the operation should be performed by making several heavy crosses or parallel lines upon each stamp with a pen dipped in good black writing ink.

Sec. 296. If the cancelling have been omitted on the mailing of the letter, packet, or parcel, or if the cancellation be incomplete, the postmaster at the office of delivery will cancel the stamp in the manner directed, and forthwith report the delinquent postmaster to the Postmaster General, as the law requires.

Sec. 297. The use of the office dating or postmarking stamp as a cancelling instrument is prohibited—unless it be used with black printer's ink, and in such manner as thoroughly to effect the object.

Sec. 298. Letters and packets, and parcels chargeable with letter postage, and prepaid by stamps or stamped envelopes, will be entered on the post-bills, and also on the transcripts of mails sent and mails received, in the appropriate columns, headed "prepaid by stamps."

Sec. 299. The postage on newspapers, magazines, and pamphlets, prepaid by stamps, will, in like manner, be entered in the proper transcript or account of newspapers, magazines, pamphlets, and other prepaid printed matter in the column headed "prepaid by stamps."

Sec. 300. In making up his quarterly account the postmaster will not charge himself in his quarterly account current with the amount of mailable matter prepaid by stamps, or stamped envelopes, which may have been received at or sent from his office; but he may take his commissions on the amount of such matter originally sent from his office, in the same manner as if the pre-payment had been made in money, and without regard to where the stamps or envelopes may have been purchased.

Sec. 301. All postage stamps or envelopes, whether attached to letters, packets, or parcels chargeable with letter postage, or to newspapers, magazines, pamphlets, or other printed matter, must be entered in the appropriate columns of the transcripts belonging to the quarterly returns, and the columns carefully footed up, that the Department may readily ascertain the quantity of stamps and envelopes used in the mails and cancelled.

Sec. 302. Postmasters receiving postage stamps or envelopes from the Department for sale, will pay over the money by them received for stamps sold, at the same time and in the same manner as their special instructions require them to pay over the quarterly balances due for postage.

Sec. 303. No application enclosing money to the Department for stamps or envelopes will be attended to further than to return the money by mail, and refer the applicant to the nearest post office authorized to sell stamps.

Sec. 304. The law provides, if any person shall use, or attempt to use, for the conveyance of any letter or other mailable matter or thing, over any post-road of the United States, either by mail or otherwise, any stamp, or stamped letter envelope, which has been before used for a like purpose, such person shall be liable to a penalty of fifty dollars, to be recovered in the name of the United States, in any court having competent jurisdiction.

Sec. 305. When unpaid letters, or letters bearing postage stamps that have evidently been used before, are left at any post office by persons unknown to the postmaster, he will retain such letters until the end of the quarter, and will then forward them with his quarterly returns—calling the attention of the Department to those bearing cancelled stamps, that the writer may then be dealt with according to law. If, however, such letters should be reclaimed before the end of the quarter, those unpaid may be restored to the writers, but those bearing cancelled stamps will not be so restored, unless upon satisfactory proof that such stamps were used ignorantly, or without fraudulent intent.

Sec. 306. When a letter bearing a cancelled stamp is posted by a person known to the postmaster, or whenever he shall ascertain the name of the person who has posted such letter with fraudulent intent, he will immediately present the case—by a written statement thereof—to the Attorney for the United States in the District where his office is situated.

CHAPTER XXXIII.

DISTRICT No. 3.

Postmasters in Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee, Texas, New Mexico, Utah, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, and Kansas, will apply to the "Blank Agent at Cincinnati, O."

Sec. 308. When the postages collected at an office amount to $100 a year, the name of the postmaster and of his office will be printed on the post-bills. When the gross receipts of an office amount to $50 a year the Postmaster is entitled to wrapping paper, sealing wax, and twine, at the above agencies.

Sec. 309. Post Offices, the gross receipts of which are over $1,000 per annum, will be furnished with circular marking and rating stamps of steel; less than $1,000 and over, $500, with stamps of Iron; less than $500, and over $100, with stamps of wood. Application for these stamps should be made to the Appointment Office. If procured elsewhere by postmasters themselves, it must be done at their own expense.

Sec. 310. Letter balances, upon the like application, are furnished to offices which collect in postages $75 a year.

CHAPTER XXXIV.

MAIL LOCKS AND KEYS.

Sec. 311. Locks and keys are furnished, when wanted, upon application to the Inspection Office, addressed to the "CHIEF CLERK." These applications, and all other official statements addressed to the Inspection Office, should be signed by the postmaster only, except in case of sickness or unavoidable absence, when they may be signed by an assistant.

Sec. 312. Postmasters at the principal offices are supplied with several locks in order that they may be used when extra mail bags are forwarded.

Sec. 313. The mail key should be kept with great care. It should never be carried out of the office, but be secured therein, under lock, and accessible only to the postmaster and his assistant. It will be deemed highly reprehensible in any postmaster to lose the mail key.

Sec. 314. Application for mail keys should be made directly to the Inspection Office, and should state the reason why a new key is wanted. If one be lost or broken, its place may be supplied by borrowing from an adjacent office, until another is furnished by the Inspection Office, when the borrowed key must be returned.

Sec. 315. In case a key is lost or broken the chain or strap of the mail bag ought not to be cut, but the fact should be notified to the next postmaster, who should be requested to take out the packets addressed to his office, and send them out of the mail, until a new key be obtained.

Sec. 316. Every postmaster, in cases where the mail arrives at his office without a lock upon the bag, should procure a common pad lock, and lock up the mail therewith, the key of which to be sealed up, and delivered to the carrier, and addressed to the next postmaster on the route.

Sec. 317. Whenever a lock shall be broken, or otherwise become unfit for use, it must, in every case, be immediately returned by mail to the Inspection Office.

Sec. 318. When an application for a new key is made to supply the place of a broken key, all the parts of the broken key should be returned to the Inspection Office.

Sec. 319. The law having made it felony to steal or to counterfeit any key suited to any lock which has been or shall be adopted for use upon the mails of the United States; or to steal, embezzle, unlawfully use or dispose of any such lock, or any mail bags in use by or belonging to the United States; it becomes the duty of postmasters, and all other agents of this Department, to see that the penalties of these provisions of law are enforced in every case of their violation.

CHAPTER XXXV.

MAIL POUCHES AND MAIL BAGS.

Sec. 320. All communications relating to portmanteaus, mail pouches and mail bags, should be addressed to the "CHIEF CLERK, POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT."

Sec. 321. When a postmaster at the end of a route discovers a mail bag to be out of order, he will immediately have it repaired and charge the amount in his account of contingent expenses, and send a receipt therefor. But if it be so unsound as that the mail will not be secure in it until it gets to the end of the route, the postmaster who first discovers its condition will have it repaired, even though it should detain the mail.

Sec. 322. Mails of letters and newspapers, before being put into the mail bag, are to be placed in separate linen or light canvass bags, where such bags are used; and whenever these bags are worn out or lost, the postmasters at the ends of routes will apply to the Inspection Office for such bags as may be necessary for the transportation of the mail.

Sec. 323. All mail bags not in use should be immediately returned to the office from which they were sent. Postmasters who send extra bags should see that they are returned: this they can do by writing to the postmasters who retain them. If they be not returned, the facts should be reported to the Inspection Office.

Sec. 324. A sufficient number of mail bags should be retained at distributing offices, and at offices where the parts of a large mail are separated for several routes, to send the mail matter for all such routes.

Sec. 325. When a new mail bag is wanted, application must be made to the Inspection Office, describing the size and the number of the route on which it is to be used. No allowance will be made to postmasters or contractors for mail bags procured by them, without special instructions from the Department.

Sec. 326. Postmasters whose offices are mail bag depots, may furnish mail bags in cases of great emergency, in which cases they will make a report to the Department, stating the kind of bag and the number of the route upon which it is placed.

Sec. 327. Bags designed for newspaper mails, and without locks, have been illegally withdrawn from the service of the Department, and applied to the uses of contractors or their drivers, for the conveyance of grain or for other private purposes; and many of them have been sold or otherwise disposed of. Wherever this abuse is known to have been practised, postmasters should notify every person implicated in it, that if he shall hereafter steal, purloin, embezzle, or convert to his own use any mail bags or other property belonging to the Post Office Department, he will thereby render himself liable to imprisonment for a period extending from one to three years, according to the amount of the embezzlement, and to a fine not exceeding two hundred dollars.

Sec. 328. Postmasters should not permit mail bags or locks belonging to their offices to be withheld, and thereby exhaust the supply of those articles. In every case they will give notice on their Post Bills, to postmasters who retain bags or locks due their offices, to return the same forthwith, and will report to the Department all who may disregard the notices so given.

Sec. 329. The following post offices are constituted depositaries for mail bags and locks, viz: Portland, and Bangor, Me.; Concord, N. H.; Montpelier and Rutland, Vt.; Boston, Mass.; Providence, R. I.; Hartford and New Haven, Conn.; New York, Albany, Rochester and Buffalo, N. Y.; Trenton N. J.; Philadelphia, Harrisburg and Pittsburg, Pa.; Baltimore, Md.; Washington, D. C.; Richmond, Wheeling and Abingdon, Va.; Raleigh and Ashville, N. C.; Charleston and Columbia, S. C.; Augusta, Savannah and Columbus, Ga.; Tallahassee, Fa.; Mobile, Tuscaloosa, Montgomery and Huntsville, Ala.; Jackson and Natchez, Miss.; New Orleans, La.; Little Rock, Ark.; Knoxville, Nashville and Memphis, Tenn.; Louisville, Ky.; Columbus, Cincinnati and Cleveland, Ohio; Detroit, Mich.; Indianapolis and Vincennes, Ind.; Springfield, Galena and Chicago, Ill.; Saint Louis, Jefferson City and Independence, Mo.; Madison, Wis.; Keokuck and Iowa City, Iowa; Galveston, Clarksville and Nacogdoches, Texas; San Francisco, Cal.; and Astoria, Oregon.

CHAPTER XXXVI.

REGISTRATION OF LETTERS.

Sec. 330. Letters, alleged to be valuable, posted at one Post Office in the United States, and deliverable at another such office, shall from and after the first day of July, 1855, be registered at the office of mailing, on the application of the person posting the same, and the payment of a registration fee of five cents.

Sec. 331. Postmasters are instructed to enter all such letters in a book to be prepared and kept for the purpose, to be called the Receipt Book (which, in small offices, will be prepared by stitching together the several sheets of blank receipts furnished by this Department,) containing blank receipts with a wide margin for a brief duplicate of each, as in Bank check books. The postmaster will enter in this margin the number of the receipt, the date of filling it, the name of the person to whom the letter is addressed, and of the place to which it is to be mailed. He will then fill up the raceipt to correspond with this marginal entry, separate it from the margin, and deliver it to the person who deposited the letter.

Sec. 332. Registered Letters will not be entered in the ordinary accounts of mails received and sent, but separate accounts of such letters will be kept at each Post Office, to be called account of registered letters received, and account of registered letters sent, blanks for which will be furnished by the Department.

Sec. 333. When a letter has been received, registered, and receipted for, as directed in Section 331, the Postmaster will enter its number, the date of mailing, the rate of postage, the name of the person to whom it is addressed, and of the office (whether of distribution or delivery) to which it is to be sent in his account of registered letters sent. He will make a separate letter bill for each registered letter or parcel of registered letters for the same office of delivery or distribution, entering therein the number, address, registration fee, and rate of postage of each. He will then mail each such letter or parcel of letters, in a separate package from his unregistered letters. The letter bills of such registered letters will not be enclosed in the packages with them, but such letter bills will be enclosed in a separate wrapper or envelope, sealed and addressed to the Postmaster, at the office to which the corresponding package of registered letters is sent.

To prevent delay in the examination and comparison of letter bills, the Postmaster at each of the larger offices will assign to some confidential clerk (not employed in opening the mails) the duty of opening in his absence official letters addressed to him.

Sec. 334. In all large offices, where letters are received, entered and mailed by different persons, it shall be the duty of the Postmaster either to keep the Receipt Book provided for in Section 331, or to designate some one specially for that service.

Sec. 335. The Postmaster, or receiving clerk, having received a letter for registry, will pass it to the clerk who keeps the account of registered letters sent, who will receipt for it by writing his name or initials across its marginal entry in the receipt book. He will enter it in his account of registered letters sent, and keep it in a secure place of deposite until the hour of mailing. He will then make up his letter bill of registered letters, which is to be forwarded in a separate sealed wrapper or envelope as provided in Section 333, addressed to the Postmaster at the office to which the corresponding package of registered letters is to be sent. It shall also be his duty to make up each package of registered letters, address it to the office of its destination, and see that it is placed in its appropriate bag at the moment when that bag is to be finally locked and sent from the office.

Sec. 336. On the receipt at the distributing office, of registered letters for distribution, the clerk who opens and distributes the mail, will apply to the Postmaster, or to such one of his assistants as may be authorized to open official letters addressed to him, for the corresponding letter bill. Having compared the letters with the bill, he will indorse it "correct" if he finds it so, or will note the error if there be one, and will pass it with the letters to the clerk who keeps the account of registered letters received for distribution, who will enter its contents in his account and indorse upon it his signature or initials. He will then fill up the corresponding return bill, noting upon it whether correct or otherwise, and will pass it to the Postmaster or his principal assistant, who will see that it is returned by the first mail thereafter with his indorsement, to the office of mailing.

Sec. 337. Registered letters remailed at a distributing office for their respective offices of delivery, are to be passed from the charge of the clerk who keeps the account of registered letters received, into the charge of the clerk who keeps the account of registered letters sent (if two are employed in these duties) who will receipt for them by endorsing the orginal letter bill, and afterward dispose of them in the same manner as provided in Section 335, for letters originally mailed at the office.

Sec. 338. On the receipt of registered letters at smaller offices of delivery, the Postmaster or his assistant will compare such letters with their letter bill. make a duplicate upon the blank return bill annexed and will then mark the return bill correct, or note upon it any error found in the original bill, and inclose it in a sealed wrapper or envelope, and mail it direct by first mail to the address of the Postmaster at whose office it was originally mailed.

Sec. 339. On the receipt of registered letters at the office of delivery, if it be a large one, the clerk who opens the mail will apply for the post-bill, and otherwise proceed in the same manner as prescribed in Sec. 336. The clerk who keeps the account of registered letters received, will, on receiving the letter-bill enter its contents in his account, make a duplicate thereof on the blank return bill which accompanies it, and having indorsed thereon the word "correct" if it be so, or noted the error if there be one, he will pass it to the Postmaster or his principal assistant, who will inclose it in a sealed envelope and mail it direct by first mail to the address of the Postmaster from whose office the bill was received.

Sec. 340. When the duplicate letter bill of any registered letter or letters is returned from the office of distribution or delivery to the office where it was originally mailed, that fact shall, in each case, be noted by a check mark on the margin of the account of registered letters sent, opposite the original entry; and if it be not duly returned, the failure shall in like manner be noted by a different check mark, and such failure shall in all large offices be immediately reported by the clerk who keeps the accounts of registered letters sent to the Postmaster or his principal assistant, and each Postmaster will give immediate notice to the chief clerk of this Deparment of every such failure noted in his office.

Sec. 341. If upon the receipt of any duplicate or return letter bill, it be found on examination that a letter originally mailed with it is missing, or that any important error or discrepancy is endorsed on it, the fact will be duly noted on the account of registered letters sent, and immediately reported to the chief clerk of this department, and if the discrepancy implies a robbery of the mail, or if a money letter or package of considerable value is found to be missing, such report will be made by telegraph if possible.

Sec. 342. It will be the duty of the Postmaster to report by telegraph any mail robbery of which he may otherwise receive early information.

Sec. 343. On the delivery of a registered letter at the office of its destination, a receipt therefor will be taken from the person authorized to receive it, and such receipt will be carefully filed and preserved at that office.

NOTE.—The blank receipts furnished by this department can be used for this purpose, but Postmasters may adopt any other certain method of verifying the delivery of registered letters.

Sec. 344. Letters for Germany by the Bremen line via New York, and by the Prussian closed mails via New York and Boston, will be registered in the same manner and on the same terms as those deliverable in the United States, but the postage on such letters must be prepaid to the place of their destination.

Sec 345. Prepaid letters from Bremen, and those received by Prussian closed mails, (if accompanied with letter bills similar to those prescribed for the use of this Department,) will be duly registered at the American office of distribution or delivery at which they are first received, and will thereafter be treated in all respects in the same manner as letters originally mailed in the United States.

Sec. 346. Each Postmaster will see that his accounts of registered letters are legibly and accurately kept; and at the end of each quarter he will forward with his quarterly returns full and perfect transcripts of such accounts with the letter-bills pertaining to them, retaining the original accounts in his office for reference.

Sec. 347. Postmasters are forbidden to make any mark, or entry of any kind, on registered letters, indicating that they contain a valuable enclosure.

Sec. 348. Postmasters and others having the franking privilege are not allowed to send registered letters without paying the registry fee.

CHAPTER XXXVII.

UNLAWFUL CARRYING OF MAILABLE MATTER BY PRIVATE EXPRESSES OR OTHERWISE.

Sec. 349. No person can lawfully carry or transport any letter, packet, newspaper or printed circular or price current, on board any packet in which the United States mail is regularly carried to or from foreign countries, with the exception of letters sealed and addressed and prepaid by stamps or stamped envelopes, of the proper denomination, and newspapers in use, and not intended for circulation in the country to which the vessel may be bound, or done up in packages as merchandise, and directed to some bona fide dealer.

Sec. 350. Stage coaches, railroad cars, steamboats, packetboats, and all other vehicles or vessels performing regular trips at stated periods, on a post route between two or more cities, towns, or places, from one to the other, on which the United States mail is regularly conveyed under the authority of the Post Office Department, are prohibited from transporting or conveying, otherwise than in the mail, any letter, packet, or packets of letters, (except those sealed and addressed and prepaid by stamped envelopes, of suitable denominations,) or other mailable matter whatsoever, except such as may have relation to some part of the cargo of such steamboat, packetboat, or other vessel, or to some article at the same time conveyed by such stage, railroad car, or some vehicle, and excepting also, newspapers, pamphlets, magazines, and periodicals. Letters prepaid by stamps cannot be lawfully carried out of the mails.

Sec. 351. The act of 1845 imposes a fine of $150 for each offence upon the person who may establish an express for the transmission of mailable matter out of the mails and upon each person acting as such express, or aiding and assisting therein. It imposes the same fine upon the owner of any stage coach, railroad car, steamboat, or other vehicle, or vessel, making regular trips at stated periods, and carrying —with the knowledge or consent of such owner, or of the captain, conductor, or other person in charge of such vehicle or vessel—any person acting or employed as such express. It prohibits the conveyance of mailable matter otherwise than in the mails, by the owners, mana ers, conductors, crews, or servants of any vehicle, or vessel, making stated trips as aforesaid, under a penalty of $100 to be paid by the owner, and $50 to be paid by the captain, conductor, driver, or other person having charge of such vehicle or vessel, for each offence.

Sec. 352. Congress having by the 5th Section of the act of August 1852 authorized the seizure and detention of all letters, or packages containing letters which shall have been sent or conveyed contrary to law, on board any ship or vessel, or on or over any post route of the United States, it is the duty of postmasters and other agents of this Department to cause this provision of the law to be enforced.

Sec. 353. Whenever a Postmaster receives information, or has good reason to believe that letters are illegally brought to, or sent from any city, town, landing, station, or place near his office, whether by steamboat, railroad, or any other mode of conveyance, he will give immediate notice of such violation of law to the collector of the district, or some other officer of the customs, if such letters are on board a ship or other vessel, or to a special agent of this Department, or a marshal, or deputy marshal of the United States, if the same have been sent or conveyed either by sea or land; and it will be the duty of such collector, custom-house officer, special agent, marshal or deputy marshal to search for and seize all such letters and convey them to the nearest Post Office, or detain them until after the trial of any suit which may grow out of such seizure, as the Postmaster General, and the Secretary of the Treasury may direct, and one half of any penalties that may be recovered for illegal sending, carrying or transporting any such letters shall be paid to the officer so seizing.

Sec. 354. In every case where a postmaster has reason to believe that the law in relation to the conveying mail matter out of the mails, is violated near his office, and no officer authorized to seize letters illegally carried resides in the vicinity, he will apply to the Postmaster General for an appointment as special agent for the purpose—stating fully the facts which in his judgment render such appointment necessary.

Sec. 355. Contractors and mail carriers, may carry newspapers out of the mails, for sale or distribution among regular subscribers; but when such papers are placed in a Post Office for delivery, postage must be charged and collected. Contractors and other persons may also convey books, pamphlets, magazines and newspapers, (not intended for immediate distribution) done up in packages as merchandize, and addressed to some bona fide agent or dealer.

Sec. 355. a. No part of a penalty accrues to the prosecutor, except in cases where the act prescribing the penalty soprovides.

CHAPTER XXXVIII.

PENALTIES.

Sec. 356. Every Postmaster will give his particular attention to the following enumeration of crimes and offences against the Post Office Department. He will diligently inquire, within his delivery, into the commission of any of the acts or doings therein prohibited, and for proof sufficient to sustain a prosecution for any such offences. In most cases these penalties may be sued for by actions qui tam, in which cases one-half the penalty will accrue to the United States and one-half to the person who prosecutes. In all cases, in which expense may be incurred by the United States, unless there be occasion for immediate proceedings, he will first report the facts to the Department.

1. Members of Congress for entering into contract with the United States, $3000.—See Act of April 21, 1808, sec. 1.

2. Officer of Government for making such contract, $3000.—See Act of April 21, 1808, sec. 4.

3. Master of steamboat failing to deliver letters into post office, $100.—See Act of March 3, 1825, sec. 6.

4. Any person on board failing to deliver letters to the captain, $10.—Ibid.

5. Contractors employing any other than a free white person to carry the mail, $20.—See Act of March 3, 1825, sec. 4.
